REPORTS ANALYSIS REFERRAL

TO

OFFICE OF GENERAL COUNSEL

DATE: April 1, 1994

ANALYST: Pat Sheppard

I. COMMITTEE: Friends of Jim Moody
(C00150813)
Robert H. Friebert, Treasurer
P. O. Box 93330
Milwaukee, WI 53203

II. RELEVANT STATUTE: 2 U.S.C. §441a(f)

III. BACKGROUND:

Receipt of Excessive Contributions

The Friends of Jim Moody committee ("the Committee") has accepted during 1991-1992, excessive contributions totaling $168,741.76. These contributions were made by one hundred ninety-four (194) individuals and fifteen (15) political committees. The excessive contributions being referred are contributions designated for the primary election in excess of the $1,000 election limit and contributions designated for the general election which were not refunded or not refunded within a reasonable time. To date, the Committee has refunded or received redesignation of $7,263.22 of the excessive amounts.

Presented below are the excessive contributions received, the notices sent and the responses received. For specific details, please refer to the attached chart and its supporting documents. The chart is an alphabetical listing of all the excessive contributions received by the Committee.

1. Possible Violation Discovered During Initial ReviewA. Contributions in excess of the Primary $1,000 limit

Schedule A of the Committee's 1991 Year End Report discloses the receipt of an excessive contribution from one qualified multicandidate political committee for $1,000.

Schedule A of the Committee's 1992 April Quarterly Report discloses the receipt of excessive contributions totaling $11,000. These contributions were made by three (3) qualified multicandidate political committees.

Schedule A of the Committee's 1992 July Quarterly Report discloses the receipt of an excessive contribution from one qualified multicandidate political committee for $1,000.

Schedule A of the Committee's 1992 12 Day Pre-Primary Report discloses the receipt of an excessive contribution from one qualified multicandidate political committee for $1,000.

Schedule A of the Committee's 1992 October Quarterly Report discloses the receipt of excessive contributions totaling $3,000. These contributions were made by one (1) qualified and one (1) non-qualified multicandidate political committee.

On December 15, 1993, A Request for Additional Information ("RFAI") was sent to each of the aforementioned reports (Attachments 2 thru 6). The RFAI's note the receipt of the excessive contributions and request that the Committee refund the amount in excess of the $1,000 or $5,000 per election limit. The RFAIs also note the possibility of further Commission action concerning the acceptance of excessive contributions.

On January 6, 1994, a Second Notice was sent to the Committee for failure to respond (Attachment 7).

B. Contributions designated for the general election

Schedule D of the Committee's 1992 Year End Report itemizes contributions totaling $189,161.41 designated for the general election (Attachment 8). Jim Moody lost the Wisconsin Primary Election held on September 8, 1992. As the candidate did not participate in the general election, contributions for that election should be refunded or redesignated and reattributed (11 CFR $110.1(b)(3)(i); also 11 CFR $110.1(b)(5) and $110.1(k)(3)). The Committee's 1992 Year End Report itemizes $34,313.88 in general election contribution refunds.

On December 17, 1993, an Informational Notice was sent to the Committee (Attachment 9). The notice notes the receipt of the general election contributions and requests that the Committee refund or seek redesignation and reattribution of the contributions.

On January 19, 1994, Mr. Steve Cady called a Reports Analysis Division analyst (Attachment 10). Mr. Cady noted that everyone had been on vacation and had not checked the P.O. Box because the Committee was inactive. I informed him of the urgency to address the issue of the contributions designated for the general election and that the matter may be referred to the Office of General Counsel for legal action. Mr. Cady stated that he will forward the information on to the treasurer.

On January 19, 1994, Mr. Friebert ("the treasurer") called the analyst (Attachment 11). The treasurer reiterated that they had been on vacation and was just in receipt of the letters. The treasurer said that he would draft a response in reference to the contributions received for the general election today. He said that they had handled the contributions in accordance with a Commission Advisory Opinion. He said that he could provide a break down of all funds sent in regard to the general election. The analyst told him to submit as much documentation as he wanted.

On January 24, 1994, the treasurer responded by letter (Attachment 12). He reiterated that the letters were delayed getting to him due to the fact that they were on vacation. The treasurer states that he intends to address the issue of the general election contributions now and respond to the other questions at a later date. The treasurer states in the letter that the Committee believes that they had followed Commission Advisory Opinion 1986-17 in handling the contributions designated for the general election. The treasurer states that the advisory opinion notes that in the event of a loss in the primary, the amount of general election contributions spent become an obligation of the campaign committee. Therefore, the Committee refunded on a pro rata basis the amount of general election contributions that were not spent and the remaining were listed on Schedule D as a debt outstanding. The Committee refunded eighteen percent (18%) of each general election contribution.

On February 1, 1994, the Committee responded to the 1992 October Quarterly Report (Attachment 13). The Committee states that they were not aware that they had received a contribution from a non-qualified committee and that they have transmitted a refund to the committee.

On February 7, 1994, the Committee responded again (Attachment 14). However, this amendment did not address the issue of the general election contributions or the remaining contributions in excess of the primary election limit.

2. Possible Additional Violations Discovered During the Preparation of the Referral

An additional $50,615.98 in apparent excessive contributions were discovered during the preparation of this referral. These apparent excessive contributions were made by ninety-one (91) individuals. All of these apparent excessive contributions are in excess of the $1,000 primary election limit. Although these apparent excessive contributions are designated for the primary election, the Committee has made refunds to several of the individuals in the same pro rata basis as the refunds to the contributions designated for the general election (18%). The Committee has not received notification of these apparent excessive contributions. To date, the Committee has failed to refund, redesignate or reattribute the remaining excessive amount. The apparent excessives were discovered on the following reports:

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 1 9 5

1991 Mid-Year Report	$500.00
1991 Year End Report	$350.00
1992 April Quarterly Report	$25,510.20
1992 July Quarterly Report	$11,630.60
1992 12 Day Pre-Primary Report	$8,378.45
1992 October Quarterly Report	$2,396.73
1992 Year End Report	$1,850.00

Dear Mr. Friebert:

This letter is prompted by the Commission's preliminary review of the report(s) referenced above. The review raised questions concerning certain information contained in the report(s). An itemization follows:

-Schedule A of your report (pertinent portion attached) discloses a contribution(s) which appears to exceed the limit set forth in the Act. A qualified multicandidate committee may not make a contribution to a candidate for federal office in excess of $5,000 per election. (2 U.S.C. §441a(a) and (f); 11 CFR §110.2(b))

Please note that contributions designated in writing by the contributor for a particular election must be attributed to that election. Contributions not designated in writing by the contributor will be considered made for the next election for that Federal Office (1992 Primary) (11 CFR §110.1(b)(2)(i) and (ii)).

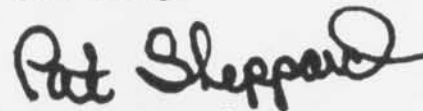

If the contribution(s) in question was incompletely or incorrectly disclosed, you should amend your original report with the clarifying information. If the contribution(s) you received exceeds the limit, you should refund to the donor the amount in excess of $5,000 or get the donor to redesignate the contribution in writing. Refunds and redesignations must be made within sixty days of the treasurer's receipt of the contribution. Copies of refund checks and copies of letters redesignating the contributions in question may be used to respond to this letter. Refunds are reported on Line 20 of the Detailed Summary Page and on Schedule B of the report covering the period in which they are made. Redesignations are reported as memo entries on Schedule A of the report covering the period in which the authorization for the redesignation is received. (11 CFR §104.8(d)(2) and (4))

Although the Commission may take further legal steps, prompt action by you to refund or seek redesignation of the excessive amount(s) will be taken into consideration.

A written response or an amendment to your original report(s) correcting the above problem(s) should be filed with the Secretary of the Senate, 232 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510 within fifteen (15) days of the date of this letter. If you need assistance, please feel free to contact us on our toll-free number, (800) 424-9530. My local number is (202) 219-3580.

Dear Mr. Friebert:

This letter is prompted by the Commission's preliminary review of the report(s) referenced above. The review raised questions concerning certain information contained in the report(s). An itemization follows:

-Schedule A of your report (pertinent portion attached) discloses a contribution(s) which appears to exceed the limit set forth in the Act. A qualified multicandidate committee may not make a contribution to a candidate for federal office in excess of $5,000 per election. (2 U.S.C. §441a(a) and (f); 11 CFR §110.2(b))

Please note that contributions designated in writing by the contributor for a particular election must be attributed to that election. Contributions not designated in writing by the contributor will be considered made for the next election for that Federal Office (1992 Primary) (11 CFR §110.1(b)(2)(i) and (ii)).

If the contribution(s) in question was incompletely or incorrectly disclosed, you should amend your original report with the clarifying information. If the contribution(s) you received exceeds the limit, you should refund to the donor the amount in excess of $5,000 or get the donor to redesignate the contribution in writing. Refunds and redesignations must be made within sixty days of the treasurer's receipt of the contribution. Copies of refund checks and copies of letters redesignating the contributions in question may be used to respond to this letter. Refunds are reported on Line 20 of the Detailed Summary Page and on Schedule B of the report covering the period in which they are made. Redesignations are reported as memo entries on Schedule A of the report covering the period in which the authorization for the redesignation is received. (11 CFR §104.8(d)(2) and (4))

Although the Commission may take further legal steps, prompt action by you to refund or seek redesignation of the excessive amount(s) will be taken into consideration.

A written response or an amendment to your original report(s) correcting the above problem(s) should be filed with the Secretary of the Senate, 232 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510 within fifteen (15) days of the date of this letter. Dear Mr. Friebert:

This letter is prompted by the Commission's preliminary review of the report(s) referenced above. The review raised questions concerning certain information contained in the report(s). An itemization follows:

-Schedule A of your report (pertinent portion attached) discloses a contribution(s) which appears to exceed the limits set forth in the Act. No political committee other than a qualified multicandidate committee may make contributions to a candidate for federal office in excess of $1,000 per election. The Camp Association PAC did not meet the requirements for multicandidate status as of the date the contribution(s) was made to your committee. Additionally, a multicandidate committee may not make a contribution to a candidate for federal office in excess of $5,000 per election. The term "contribution" includes any gift, subscription, loan, advance or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for federal office. (2 U.S.C. §441(a) and (f); 11 CFR §110.1(b) and (e)).

Please note that contributions designated in writing by the contributor for a particular election must be attributed to that election. Contributions not designated in writing by the contributor will be considered made for the next election for that Federal Office (1992 Primary Election) (11 CFR §110.1(b)(2)(i) and (ii)).

If the contribution(s) in question was incompletely or incorrectly reported, you should amend your original report with the clarifying information. If the contribution(s) you received exceeds the limit, you should either refund to the donor(s) the amount in excess of $1,000 or $5,000 per election or get the donor(s) to redesignate the contribution(s) in writing. The Commission should be notified if a refund is necessary. Refunds are reported on Line 20 of the Detailed Summary Page and on Schedule B of the report covering the period in which the refund is made. Redesignations are reported as memo entries on Schedule A of the report covering the period in which the authorization for the redesignation is received. (11 CFR §104.8(d)(2) and (4))

Although the Commission may take further legal steps, prompt action by you to refund or seek redesignation of the excessive amount(s) will be taken into consideration.

-Schedules B and C of this report discloses the receipt of an in-kind loan. Please be advised that you have inflated your receipts and disbursements totals by including this transaction in the Detailed Summary Page. If this amount represents out of pocket expenses that the candidate wishes to be reimbursed for, you should disclose this amount on Schedule D only. When the committee reimburses the candidate, the payments should be disclosed on Schedule B with the appropriate memo itemization disclosing the original vendor name and address. Amend your report to delete this loan and the entry on Schedule B and disclose this on Schedule D.

-Schedule A of your report indicates that your committee may have failed to file one or more of the required 48 hour notices regarding "last minute" contributions received by your committee after the close of books for the 2 report. A principal campaign committee must notify the Commission, in writing, within 48 hours of any contribution of $1,000 or more received between two and twenty days before an election. These contributions are then reported on the next report required to be filed by the committee. To ensure that the Commission is notified of last minute contributions of $1,000 or more to your campaign, it is recommended that you review your procedures for checking contributions received during the aforementioned time period. Although the Commission may take legal action, any response you wish to make concerning this matter will be taken into consideration. (11 CFR §104.5(f))

A written response or an amendment to your original report(s) correcting the above problem(s) should be filed with the Secretary of the Senate, 232 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510 within fifteen (15) days of the date of this letter. If you

Dear Mr. Friebert:

This letter is prompted by the Commission's preliminary review of the report(s) referenced above. The review raised questions concerning certain information contained in the report(s). An itemization follows:

-While it is permissible for a person to make a contribution for the general election prior to the primary election, the recipient committee must employ an acceptable accounting method to distinguish between primary and general election contributions. 11 CFR §102.9(e) This general election amount should be maintained in the committee's account.

If the candidate does not participate in the general election, any contribution received for the general election must be returned to the donors, redesignated or reattributed in accordance with 11 CFR §§110.1(b)(5), 110.2(b)(5) or 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate. The use of general election contributions to pay primary debts and obligations is prohibited under the Act as such use could result in individuals making contributions with respect to the primary election in excess of the $1,000 per election limit. Any subsequent report(s) filed with the Commission should disclose the refund, redesignation or reattribution of any general election contribution. Refunds, redesignations, or reattributions must be done within sixty days after the September 8, 1992 Primary Election.

Any amendment or clarification should be filed with the Secretary of the Senate, 232 Hart Senate Office Building.

COMMITTEE REP: Steve Cady, Bookkeeper (414) 273-6686

Mr. Cady called to inform me that he had just picked up the letters from the P. O. Box. He stated that he was on vacation and had not checked the box because the committee was not active. He said that he had forwarded the letters to the treasurer. I told Mr. Cady that there was a matter of contributions received for the general election that had not been refunded and that this issue needed to be addressed as soon as possible.

I informed him that since it appeared that the refunds of such contributions would be outside of the sixty days allowed after the primary election this matter would be sent to the Office of General Counsel for legal action. Mr. Cady said that he would relay this message to the treasurer. I told him that if the treasurer had any questions that needed to be answered he could call me.

Mr. Frieibert called to follow up on the conversation I had with Mr. Cady the bookkeeper. Mr. Frieibert reiterated the fact that the committee just received the letters due to the fact that he and the bookkeeper were on vacation. Mr. Frieibert stated that he had drafted a response to the letters about the general election contributions and wanted to run it past me. He said that the committee had handled the contributions based on an Advisory Opinion they had read (AO 1986-17). I explained to Mr. Frieibert that it was not my decision to make.

I told him that based on the fact the contributions had not been refunded sixty days after the Primary election, the matter will be sent to counsel. He asked if he should provide information on the breakdown of payments for primary and general services that was established in 1992. I told him to provide as much information as possible.

Dear Ms. Sheppard:

As I mentioned to you on the phone, I apologize for the delay in responding to your December, 1993 communications. Your letters were called to my attention on late Tuesday, January 18, 1994. I suspect the delay was caused by the holidays and vacations that were being taken by those responsible for checking the post office box.

You indicated in our telephone conversation that the most important inquiry concerned the failure to refund all of the general election contributions. Pursuant to our discussion I am responding to that question for all of your letters. I intend to respond to the other questions at a later date.

The Friends of Jim Moody (the Committee) believes the proper analysis on the use of general election funds is contained in AO 1986-17, where the FEC opined that general election campaign expenses be paid prior to the primary election using monies received for the general election campaign. This opinion was referred to recently in AO 1992-15 (f/n 5). The opinion of the commission in AO 1986-17 notes that in the event of a loss in the primary, the amounts spent on the general election utilizing general election campaign funds become an obligation of the campaign committee. As a result, and in accordance with AO 1986-17, the amount of general election campaign funds of the Committee that were not used to make expenditures for the general election were refunded to the contributors on a pro rata basis. The remaining amounts, in accordance with that opinion, are shown as obligations of the Committee.

The Wisconsin primary is one of the latest in the nation. There is very little time between the September primary and the November general election. Candidates in Wisconsin, out of necessity, often conduct both their primary and general election campaigns simultaneously. I am mentioning this to you to demonstrate that there are significant planning and expenditure differences between a state like Wisconsin which has a late primary as compared to a state, such as Illinois, which has a primary in the Spring. The candidate who wins in Illinois has the entire summer to prepare and plan for the general election. A candidate in Wisconsin has no time after the September primary. In Wisconsin, substantial sums of money are often spent prior to the September primary for the general election.

Wisconsin has enacted expenditure limitations for both the primary and the general election when a candidate receives public funds. Therefore, allocation of expenses between primary and general elections is a very important local issue. Recognizing the political fact that the Wisconsin primary is only two months before the general election, the Wisconsin Election Board has adopted regulations to distinguish between primary election expenses and general election expenses. WI. El. Bd. Rule 1.455.

As I pointed out, in conformity with AO 1986-17, the Committee reported a debt for the amounts used to pay general election expenses prior to the primary. AO 1986-17 did not set a specific date to return the remaining money. The opinion says that the refund should be made "within a reasonable time." The Committee is attempting to raise money to pay off this debt. As the Committee's next report will show, there has been some success. However, as pointed out by Commissioner Harris in AO 1986-17, it is extremely difficult for defeated candidates to raise money. The Committee is doing its best to obtain contributions to liquidate this debt and expects to make another payment on this debt at some future time. Under all these circumstances, the Committee's actions are reasonable.

Ms. Pat Sheppard
January 20, 1994

In our conversation, you inquired about some allocations between primary and general election expenses. I advised you that the staff of the Committee had prepared a report over a year ago identifying these expenditures and briefly described the Committee's reasons for the allocations to the general election. To expedite this matter, I am enclosing a copy of that report. The types of summer expenses shown on the report are undoubtedly similar to the expenses of other campaigns which have spring primaries. These expenditures are just as necessary in the summer in Wisconsin. It is too late to wait until September.

If you or counsel have any further questions, please call me.

Very truly yours,

FRIEBERT, FINERTY & ST. JOHN, S.C.

RATIONALE FOR GENERAL ELECTION EXPENDITURES
FRIENDS OF JIM MOODY CAMPAIGN
DECEMBER 11, 1992

Struble & Totten Communications - 3/31/92 FEC

The media contract between Friends of Jim Moody (FOJM) and Struble Totten Communications included opposition research fees. FOJM was required to pay in advance for research on all candidates, including Senator Robert Kasten. Kasten's voting record needed to be analyzed to help set campaign strategy. The $17,500 allocated to the general election was strictly for research on Senator Kasten, our general election opponent.

Micro Advisors - 3/31/92 FEC

FOJM approached Micro Advisors, a computer support company, to create software that would be needed by the campaign. The campaign finance software was designed to accurately distinguish between primary and general election contributions. Thus, the campaign expended funds to monitor general election receipts. $1,000 was allocated to the general election to cover these costs.

Aristotle - 6/30/92 FEC

Aristotle, another computer support company, was retained to help with problems with our computer -- including problems with our finance software -- and 50% of the cost was allocated to the general election.

Wisconsin Newspaper Association - 6/30/92 FEC

The FOJM solicited the services of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association to provide actual newsclips of articles of interest to the campaign. WNA was requested to clip articles regarding Senator Kasten -- both Congressional and campaign activity -- and therefore a portion of our clipping fees were allocated to the general election.

Burton & Mayer Printing Company - 6/30/92 FEC

As is usually the case, the more you print the cheaper it is. FOJM utilized Burton & Mayer to print large amounts of letterhead, envelopes, etc. The FOJM did not expect to order more for the general election, so a portion was allocated as a general election expenditure.

Rosemary Cribben - 6/30/92 FEC

Rosemary Cribben is a Washington D.C. based fundraising consultant who was retained by the FOJN. She was usually assigned the task of raising funds from "traditional sources" and her efforts secured many contributions that were required to be designated general election contributions. Therefore, a portion of her consulting fees were allocated to reflect the cost of raising general election funds.

Michael Donovan - 6/30/92 FEC

Michael Donovan was a Milwaukee based consultant who assisted Rosemary Cribben in fundraising efforts. Thus, a small allocation was made to the general election.

Fraioli & Jost, Inc. - 6/30/92 FEC

Fraioli & Jost is a Washington D.C. based fundraising firm which was retained by the FOJN. They were directed to help raise funds from PACS and other well known contributors. Many of the PACS who contributed to our general election fund did so at the prompting of Fraioli & Jost. Therefore, a proportionate share of their consulting fees were allocated to general election fundraising expenses.

Federal Express - 6/30/92 FEC

Federal Express was our primary vehicle for getting checks from contributors and consultants to our bookkeeper so that they may be deposited in a timely manner. General election contributions were also included so a fraction of the total bill was allocated to the general election.

Struble & Totten - 6/30/92 FEC

Again, a small percentage (23%) of our retainer was allocated to the general election to reflect the fact that the media contract extended through the general election.

Micro Advisors - 6/30/92 FEC

Less than 1/3 of our computer software creation costs were allocated to the general election. The software was up and running in February, and was needed to function at least through the general election.

Wellman & Lazarus - 6/30/92 FEC

Wellman & Lazarus was the polling firm retained by the FOJN. Similar to Struble & Totten, the consulting contract was arranged so that fees were paid in advance to cover through the general election -- regardless if we lose in the primary -- and is non-refundable. Additionally, some polling was conducted exclusively on our general election opponent, Senator Kasten, so that our general election strategy would harmonize with our primary election strategy.

Postmaster - 6/30/92 FEC

Postage is difficult to track on a per piece basis. However, it is clear that the campaign used a substantial amount of postage to solicit, thank, and seek reattributions/redesignations from general election contributors. During this period, less than 25% was allocated to the general election.

VISA - 6/30/92 FEC

The campaign placed most travel expenses on the VISA card. This particular expenditure included airline flights for the staffer working on the Senator Kasten research, and travel incurred by Jim Moody to fundraisers where general election contributions were accepted.

Mark Thomann - 6/30/92 FEC

Mark Thomann was the Finance Director for the FOJM. He assisted in raising general election funds and therefore a small portion of his consulting fee was allocated as a general election expenditure.

Time Insurance - 6/30/92

The campaign provided basic health insurance to those employees who needed coverage. The plan extended through November, 1992, so that they may be covered through the general election and for a short period before they start a new job. The insurance premium was required in full up front and therefore an appropriate portion was allocated as a general election expense.

Michael Donovan - 8/19/92 FEC

Fundraising consultant whose fee reflects the cost of raising general election funds.

Elan Mastercard - 8/19/92 FEC

A credit card reimbursement which covered travel expenses directly related to the general election.

Federal Express - 8/19/92 FEC

Mailing expenses related to collecting general election contributions.

Ameritech Credit Corporation - 8/19/92 FEC

Office phone lease which extended through the general election. Only 22% was allocated to the general election on this date, and it was the first time a payment to Ameritech Credit had been amortized to correctly reflect the cost of the phone lease for the general election.

AT & T - 8/19/92 FEC

Long distance charges billed to the FOJM were substantial. This is the first payment where the expenditure is partly allocated to the general election (18%) to reflect the cost of soliciting general election contributions.

Quick! The Printer - 8/19/92 FEC

A printing order for certain issue papers which were expected to be used in the general election. Therefore less than 33% of the cost was allocated to the general election.

Barton & Moyer - 8/19/92 FEC

Another printing order for issue papers whose life expectancy was through the general election.

Struble & Totten - 8/19/92 FEC

Besides the advance consulting fees paid to Struble Totten prior to the general election season, they produced all of the footage used in our television commercials. They effectively shot enough footage on this and subsequent shoots to last through the general election. Commercial shoots are extremely expensive and the campaign felt it was cost effective to spend a little more now to prepare for the general election than to pay for numerous subsequent shoots.

Telsmatch - 8/19/92 FEC

A phone number search service for those who had "maxed out" for the primary election, and we wanted to reach in hopes of securing a general election contribution.

Wisconsin Newspaper Association - 8/19/92 FEC

Our news clipping service that provided as many if not more clips on Senator Kasten than our two primary opponents combined. Again, an accurate general election expense allocation has been made.

The Media Group - 8/19/92 FEC

The Media Group did all of the television commercial editing. As is the case with Struble Totten, they produced footage which was planned for the general election. Of the $51,853 paid to The Media Group on or after July 7, 1992, $21,500 or 41% was allocated to the general election. As stated earlier, many of the commercials edited by The Media Group had been geared for the general election. Again, due to the late primary (September 8) in Wisconsin, successful campaigns are required to research, shoot, and edit general election commercials well before the primary.

Hallman & Lazarus - 8/19/92 FEC

$3,000, or 13% of a $22,751 payment was designated as a general election expenditure because it covered polling/research on Senator Kasten.

Jim Moody - 8/19/92 FEC

Jim Moody made out-of-pocket payments for travel for himself and other consultants. When he was reimbursed, the campaign properly allocated those expenses related directly and exclusively to the general campaign.

Rosemary Cribben - 8/19/92 FEC

Rosemary Cribben's fundraising consulting fees were allocated to reflect what percentage of time was spent soliciting general election contributions.

Delahanty Screen Graphics - 8/19/92 FEC

This printing company was selected to print the yard/window signs for the campaign. 7,000 yard signs were ordered (to last through the general election) and as planned, only 3,000 or so yard signs were distributed for the primary election. The remainder were to be saved for the general election. Thus, an allocation was made that justifies the use of general election funds.

Mark Thomann - 8/19/92 FEC

Finance Director whose time was spent planning fundraising opportunities for both the primary and general elections. A portion of his fee was charged as a general election expense.

Fraioli & Jost, Inc. - 8/19/92 FEC

Washington, D.C. based fundraising consultants who actively attempted to raise general election funds. As the primary election drew nearer, a larger percentage of their efforts were aimed at trying to fund a general election campaign.

Harriman Communications - 8/19/92 FEC

Video tapes of speeches of primary and general election opponents. Cost of Senator Kasten footage allocated to the general election.

Brandon Mazur - 8/19/92 FEC

A part-time Washington, D.C. based fundraising consultant whose focus began to shift to raising general election funds as the primary grew nearer.

VISA - 8/19/92 FEC

Credit card reimbursement for campaign travel for the candidate and consultants. Thus, less than 25% was deemed to be exclusively in preparation of the general election and is reflected in this allocation.

Weber Printing - 8/19/92 FEC

Another large order of envelopes and press letterhead that was purchased to last through the fall campaign. Therefore, $2,000, or 37% of this particular purchase order was ascribed to the general election.

Western Union - 8/19/92 FEC

An urgent appeal was mailed to our best contributors. The proceeds of the mailing resulted in large amounts of dollars that were required to be designated to the general election. Thus, 46% of the cost of this mailing was allocated to the general election.

National Democratic Club - 8/19/92 FEC

PAC fundraising event in Washington, D.C. that raised a substantial amount of general election PAC contributions. Accordingly, the expenses of the event were allocated between primary and general election expense.

Postmaster - 8/19/92 FEC

Postage charges for soliciting and communicating with potential general election contributors. Mailings were also done that was specific to the general election -- they compared Kasten versus Moody -- and were done to get a start over our primary opponents. Although the possibility of losing the primary election was always real, the campaign realized the importance of not waiting until the final seven weeks to begin the general election.

James McCann - 8/19/92 FEC

Voter lists for both the primary and general elections. Cost was allocated to each election.

Wisconsin Bell - 8/19/92 FEC

Our local phone service was a very significant expense. The phone was used extensively to raise funds for the general election and phone charges had previously not been ascribed to the general election in any way. Thus, these local phone charges were designated as being crucial to raising general election funds.

A to Z Printing, Inc. - 9/30/92

The campaign incurred many printing charges for brochures, fund raiser invites, etc. that were never needed. Furthermore, this charge was also for paying for items to explain to our general election contributors that we would not be participating in that election.

S & S Mailing Service - 9/30/92 FEC

A mailing service was utilized to notify our numerous supporters about the campaigns change of plans about participating in the general election.

Burton & Mayer Printing - 9/30/92 FEC

Printing expenses were analyzed and it was estimated that slightly more than half of the payments to Burton & Mayer were exclusively to prepare for the general election.

James Thomas - 9/30/92 FEC
 Were primary and general election voter lists. Data was accurately ascribed to each election.

Centrell Cutter Printer - 9/30/92 FEC
 Centrell Cutter was our Washington, D.C. based printer. Most of the printing done here was in support of PAC fund raising efforts and other targets which resulted in substantial general election contributions.

Struble & Totten Communications - 9/30/92 FEC
 Some of our final consulting payments which covered service through the general election. The same situation as before: a payment for general election services being required before the primary is held.

The Media Group - 9/30/92 FEC
 The Media Group was editing footage for the general election that was never used. The payments were made in the last week of the primary election, when almost all of our primary commercials were already finished. The Media Group was assisting Struble & Totten in preparing a general election media strategy.

Mark Thomann - 9/30/92 FEC
 Again, ascribing labor costs to the cost of raising general election funds. Still, this amounted to less than 1% of the payment being charged to the general election.

Mallman & Lazans - 9/30/92 FEC
 Consulting payments that were made to our pollster that provided for service through the general election. Only 2% of this particular payment was allocated as a general election expense.

Paychex - 9/30/92 FEC
 The payroll cost, and payroll preparation fee for labor to assist in returning general election contributions.

Weber Printing - 9/30/92 FEC
 The printing cost for 5,000 envelopes which reflected the new address of the FOJM (P.O. Box 93330) so that general contributions could be returned and to return contributions that were being made for the general election which the committee could not accept.

Postmaster - 9/30/92 FEC
 Postage charges exclusively for returning general election contributions and notifying those contributors about the recent turn of events.

Quick! The Printer - 9/30/92 FEC
Printing an insert for a mailer to our general contributors.

Esene Print - 9/30/92 FEC
Again, for printing an insert for mailing to our general election contributors. Direct printing cost due to the fact that we are not participating in the general election.

Fraioli & Jost, Inc. - 9/30/92 FEC
Final consulting payments to our fund raising consultants. Final payment was designated for the general election because F & J dealt almost exclusively with these contributors.

Wisconsin Bell - 9/30/92 FEC
Phone charges related directly to organizing the winding down of the committee and notifying general election contributors.

Yood & Associates, Inc. - 9/30/92 FEC
Yood & Associates was retained to make t-shirts in support of our campaign. Enough shirts were ordered for both the primary and general election. Thus, a portion (40%) was allocated as directly relating to the general election campaign.

Reference: October Quarterly Report (8/20/92-9/30/92)

Dear Ms. Sheppard:

The Friends of Jim Moody did not know that the Camp Association PAC did not meet the requirements for a multicandidate status as of the date of the contribution. As a result of your inquiry, the Committee has transmitted a $1,000 check to the Camp Association PAC. If you have any further questions concerning this matter, please advise me

Very truly yours,

Re: Friends of Jim Moody
Identification No. C00150813

Dear Ms. Sheppard:

Enclosed are copies of amendments to the October 15th Quarterly Report, the January 31st Year-End Report and the July 31st Mid-Year Report for periods ending September 30, 1992, December 31, 1992, and June 6, 1993 respectively. These documents contain the amendments for the $6,306 credit card bill paid by Jim Moody from his personal funds. These amendments have been sent to the proper authorities and are dated January 31, 1994. These changes were made in response to your letters to the Friends of Jim Moody in December of 1993.

Your letters in December of 1993 also made inquiries concerning compliance with the 48 hour disclosure rule. The Friends of Jim Moody made four such disclosures on August 24, 1992, August 26, 1992, August 29, 1992 and September 3, 1992. Copies of these disclosures are enclosed. It is not clear from your December 1993 inquiries whether you had copies of each of these disclosures. We are not sure about the precise nature of your inquiries concerning compliance with the 48 hour disclosure rule and whether these four filings answer your questions. After you have had an opportunity to review what had been filed, and if you have any remaining inquiries, will you please be specific concerning the 48 hour disclosure issues.

I. GENERATION OF MATTER

This matter was referred to the Office of the General Counsel from the Reports Analysis Division

II. FACTUAL AND LEGAL ANALYSIS

A. Applicable Law

The Federal Election Campaign of 1971, as amended, prohibits a candidate or committee from knowingly accepting any contribution in violation of the provisions of Section 441a. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). The limit for individuals and political committees without multi-candidate status is $1,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A). The limit for political action committees qualified as multi-candidate committees is $5,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2)(A). The term "contribution" includes any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for federal office.

11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(3)(i) explains that if a candidate is not a candidate in the general election, all contributions made for the general election shall be either returned or refunded to the contributors or redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(5), or reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate. All such refunds, etc., must be made within sixty days.

11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) provides that if a candidate receives contributions prior to the date of the primary election, which contributions are designated in writing by the contributor for use in connection with the general election, such candidate or such committee(s) shall use an acceptable accounting method to distinguish between contributions received for the primary election and contributions received for the general election.

B. Analysis

The Reports Analysis Division found that during the 1992 election cycle, the Friends of Jim Moody committee and Robert H. Frieber, as treasurer, ("the Committee"), accepted primary and general election contributions totaling $168,741.76 in excess of limitations at 2 U.S.C. §§ 441a(a)(1)(A) and 441a(a)(2)(A). Of this amount, $161,315.28 was not refunded and $7,426.48 was not refunded timely.

In response to RAD's inquiries, the Committee contends that in view of Wisconsin's late primary date (September 8, 1992), it raised anticipatory general election contributions. Moreover, the Committee acknowledges that it made expenditures during the primary period using funds designated for the general election. However, candidate Jim Moody lost his Senate bid in the primary, and thus was required to refund, redesignate, or reattribute all the general election receipts within 60 days of his defeat. See 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(5) and 110.1(k)(3).

After the primary, having spent all but $34,313.88 of the general election campaign receipts, the Committee refunded this amount on a pro-rata basis. The amount of general election expenditures not refunded was apparently reported as a debt outstanding.<sup>1</sup> The Committee states that it will raise funds and make additional refund payments as funds are available.

Respondents contend that they relied on AO 1986-17 when making the general election expenditures, and that refunds were made within a reasonable period of time. Yet AO 1986-17 allows for such general election expenditures exclusively in "those limited circumstances where it is necessary to make advance payments or deposits to vendors for services that will be rendered, or goods that will be provided . . . after you have established your candidacy with respect to the general election." In AO 1986-17, the Commission made it clear that the "limited permissible use of such general election contributions does not include the expenditure for such activities that influence the primary election . . . or expenditure allocations for goods or services to be used in both the primary and general elections." See also AO 1980-122. In contrast to the narrow pre-general election exception drawn by the Commission only for necessary payments, the Committee took the broad brush approach, attributing general election expenditures to salaries, credit card expenses, postage, voter lists, phone service, travel reimbursements, T-shirts and more. In so doing, the Committee allocated expenditures between the primary and general elections, spending funds for the general election precisely in a manner AO 1986-17 disallows.<sup>2</sup>

Indeed, based on the scope and timing of these general election expenditures, they could be viewed as impermissible dual campaigning intended to influence both the primary and general elections, or they could be viewed as contributions designated for the general election that were spent on the primary. In either case, the general election expenditures are attributable to the primary election, and thus are excessive for that election. Even if certain expenditures could be considered permissible general election expenditures under AO 1986-17, the entire amount was required to be refunded timely after the primary defeat. The

2. Responding to RAD's inquiries, the Committee provided a list of expenditures it allocated between the primary and general elections. The Committee allocated expenditures to the general election totaling more than $150,000 between January 1 and September 30, 1992. Attachment A, pp. 31-39.

Committee's liberal pre-general spending resulted in its inability to refund general election receipts within 60 days in the wake of a primary defeat. AO 1992-15.

The Committee also contends that it need only make the refunds in a reasonable time, relying on AO 1986-17. However, Commission regulations effective since 1987 require such refunds within 60 days. 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(3)(i). Moreover, AO 1992-15 clearly states that contributions must be made within 60 days of a primary defeat. RAD's review of general election receipts included a comprehensive look at all reported receipts during the period. Based on the refund chart attached to the RAD referral, the amount of untimely excessive contribution refunds totals $7,426.48 of $168,741.76 in primary and general election excessives.

Based on this information, the Office of the General Counsel recommends that the Commission find reason to believe that the Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).

RE: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody
Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Mr. Friebert:

On December 6, 1994, the Federal Election Commission found that there is reason to believe the Friends of Jim Moody Committee ("Committee") and you, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f), a provision of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended ("the Act"). The Factual and Legal Analysis, which formed a basis for the Commission's finding, is attached for your information.

You may submit any factual or legal materials that you believe are relevant to the Commission's consideration of this matter. Please submit such materials to the General Counsel's Office within 15 days of your receipt of this letter. Where appropriate, statements should be submitted under oath. In the absence of additional information, the Commission may find probable cause to believe that a violation has occurred and proceed with conciliation.

In order to expedite the resolution of this matter, the Commission has also decided to offer to enter into negotiations directed towards reaching a conciliation agreement in settlement of this matter prior to a finding of probable cause to believe. Enclosed is a conciliation agreement that the Commission has approved.

If you are interested in expediting the resolution of this matter by pursuing preprobable cause conciliation, and if you agree with the provisions of the enclosed agreement, please sign and return the agreement along with the civil penalty to the Commission. In light of the fact that conciliation negotiations prior to a finding of probable cause to believe are limited to a maximum of 30 days, you should respond to this notification as soon as possible.

Requests for extensions of time will not be routinely granted. Requests must be made in writing at least five days prior to the due date of the response and specific good cause must be demonstrated. In addition, the Office of the General Counsel ordinarily will not give extensions beyond 20 days.

If you intend to be represented by counsel in this matter, please advise the Commission by completing the enclosed form stating the name, address, and telephone number of such counsel, and authorizing such counsel to receive any notifications and other communications from the Commission.

This matter will remain confidential in accordance with 2 U.S.C. §§ 437g(a)(4)(B) and 437g(a)(12)(A), unless you notify the Commission in writing that you wish the investigation to be made public.

For your information, we have attached a brief description of the Commission's procedures for handling possible violations of the Act. If you have any questions, please contact Frances B. Hagan, the staff member assigned to this matter, at (202) 219-3400.

RE: MUR 4156

Dear Ms. Hagen:

I am writing on behalf of the Friends of Jim Moody Committee and myself to request an extension of time to respond to the letter we received on December 20, 1995, from Commission Chairman Trevor Potter informing us of a "reason to believe" finding. We are considering retaining counsel from Washington, D.C., but do not expect to be able to confirm any such arrangements until after the holiday season. We therefore request an extension to February 6, 1995 (30 days) to respond to Chairman Potter's letter.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Friebert:

This is in response to your letter dated December 22, 1994, which we received on December 23, 1994, requesting an extension of 30 days to respond to the Federal Election Commission's finding of reason to believe. After considering the circumstances presented in your letter, the Office of the General Counsel has granted the requested extension, allowing sufficient time to obtain counsel and submit a response. Accordingly, your response is due by the close of business on February 3, 1995.

If you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3400.

Dear Mr. Noble:

This letter responds to Chairman Potter's notification dated December 15, 1994, that the Federal Election Commission found reason to believe that Friends of Jim Moody Committee (the "Committee") and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer (collectively "Respondents"), violated Section 441a(f) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (the "Act").

Respondents are not prepared to settle this matter through pre-probable cause conciliation. Respondents believe that they reasonably interpreted and acted in accordance with the Commission's guidance and regulations in their expenditure and treatment of general election funds. Therefore, Respondents request that the Commission dismiss this matter with no further action.

Factual Background

In 1992, Congressman Jim Moody ran in the Democratic primary to fill the United States Senate seat then occupied by former Senator Robert Kasten. The primary was held on September 8, one of the last primary elections in the country, and only eight weeks before the general election. As a consequence, the Moody campaign was forced to begin planning and preparing for the general election during the primary. This strategy is not unusual -- indeed, it is an absolute necessity -- in states with late primaries. Candidates in late primaries cannot wait for the general election to begin to put into place the fundamental elements of their campaign including: polling, fundraising, and opposition research.

The Republican candidate, Senator Robert Kasten, had no significant primary opposition and was, in effect, running his general election campaign throughout the entire primary and general election period. Mr. Moody, on the other hand, ran in a competitive primary for the Democratic Party nomination. Concurrently, he had to begin preparing for the general election to have any chance of being competitive in November.

In raising funds and making expenditures for general election activities during the primary period, Respondents relied on the Act and regulations, and made reasonable judgments based on the guidance set forth in the Commission's Advisory Opinions. Accordingly, the Committee determined that certain expenditures for the general election were necessary, appropriate and consistent with the applicable legal requirements. These funds were not used to influence the primary election. To the contrary, the Committee distinguished between primary and general campaign activities and paid for only general election activities with funds contributed for that election.

After the primary, the Committee refunded general election contributions to the contributors on a pro rata basis to the extent general election funds had not been expended. The amounts of all unrefunded general election contributions are reflected on the Committee's reports as outstanding debts on Schedule D. The Committee has made concerted efforts since that time to raise funds to pay off this debt and has had some success.

1. The Committee's General Election Expenditures Were Consistent With Commission Guidance

The Factual and Legal Analysis states that the Committee "took a broad brush approach" in making general election expenditures during the primary in a manner inconsistent with Commission guidance. Factual and Legal Analysis at 4. In fact, the Committee's expenditures were made consistent with the Commission's advice. In Advisory Opinion 1986-17, the Commission expressly approved the use of contributions designated for the general election to make expenditures during the primary period "for the purpose of influencing the prospective general election".<sup>1</sup> See also, Advisory Opinion 1992-15. In doing so, the Commission specifically superseded earlier advisory opinions suggesting that these expenditures might be prohibited:

...[T]he Commission notes that portions of Advisory Opinion 1982-49 may suggest that contributions designated for a particular election may not be expended until it is established that the candidate will participate in that election. To the extent that Advisory Opinion 1982-49 may be so interpreted as to preclude expenditures of general election contributions in the limited circumstances permitted in this opinion, Advisory Opinion 1982-49 is superseded.

The only guidance from the Commission on what constitutes allowable expenditures for the general election also appears in this Opinion. Allowable expenditures include: "advance payments and deposits to vendors for services that will be rendered, or goods that will be provided" to a Committee with regard to a general election candidacy. Underlying this general guidance is the restriction on using general election funds to influence the primary campaign.<sup>2</sup>

The Committee believes that it acted in accordance with this guidance. A detailed summary of the Committee's general election expenditures is attached as Exhibit 1 (a document prepared in December 1, 1992 shortly after the end of the election cycle). As documented in this analysis, the Committee distinguished between primary and general election expenditures to ensure that general election funds were not used to influence the primary. These expenditures were made in advance of the

<sup>1</sup> This opinion was sought by a campaign in a similarly scheduled primary. New York also has a late primary, in effect forcing candidates to prepare and make expenditures for the general election prior to the end of the primary period.

<sup>2</sup> Indeed, even this distinction does not appear absolutely rigid. In Advisory Opinion 1978-99, the Commission ruled that a candidate could choose whether to treat an invoice received during the primary for materials used largely for the general election as either a primary or general election obligation. Thus, here the candidate was given absolute discretion to pay for primary election materials with general funds or vice versa.

September primary for the purpose of emerging from the primary in a position to be competitive in the general election.

For example, the Moody Committee spent $17,500.00 of general election funds to conduct opposition research on Senator Kasten. Substantial sums were spent on gathering newspaper clippings regarding Senator Kasten. The Committee also engaged in polling on Senator Kasten. These expenditures were clearly and exclusively general, not primary, election expenses since Senator Kasten was the general election opponent of the Democratic nominee. Opposition research takes a considerable amount of time to complete. If the campaign had waited until September to retain Struble & Totten Communications for this project and to engage in the other activities concerning research on Senator Kasten, it would have been too late to serve any useful function in the general election.

Similarly, fundraising consultants, Rosemary Cribben and Fraioli/Jost were paid to raise funds for the primary as well as the general election. Simply put, it costs money to raise money. Therefore, a proportionate share of their consulting fees were allocated to the general election fundraising expenses based on the percentage of funds raised for the general election.

Many campaign consultants required prepayment for services for the general election to be performed after the primary election, even if Mr. Moody lost the election. Substantial costs were incurred for preparation for the media campaign against Senator Kasten. Supplies and materials were purchased for use in the general election.

The Committee applied a reasonable allocation method to these and its other general election expenditures. Most of the general election expenditures were for research on Senator Kasten, the costs of campaign consultants for the general election, the costs of raising general election money, the costs for media preparation for the campaign against Senator Kasten and the purchase of supplies and materials for the general election. The total amount of money raised by the Moody Committee was approximately $2.3 million. Approximately $150,000.00 of the $200,000.00 raised for the general election was spent on the general election prior to the primary. This is a relatively modest amount considering the massive costs of running a modern statewide general election for the Senate. The Committee applied a reasonable allocation method to these and its other general election expenditures.

The Commission's characterization of the committee's approach as "broadbrush" is inaccurate. It completely ignores the Committee's use of a reasonable allocation method to distinguish between general and primary expenditures. It ignores the fact that the Commission's guidance on what constitutes appropriate general election expenditures is subject to several reasonable interpretations. Finally, it fails to recognize the political necessity for a candidate, such as Mr. Moody, running in a late primary to effectively conduct simultaneous primary and general election campaigns.

2. The Requirement to Refund Contributions Within Sixty Days Does Not Apply To The Facts In This Case

The General Counsel's Factual and Legal Analysis states that FEC regulations require that the entire amount of general election contributions raised by the Moody Committee must be refunded within sixty days. But neither a fair reading of the regulations, nor Commission guidance, supports this requirement.

The Commission cites Section 110.1(b) (3) (i) of the regulations to support its position that refund of general election funds must be made within sixty days. See Factual and Legal Analysis at 2 and 4. But, Section 110.1 addresses contributions designated for an election but made after that election. The applicable regulation to the facts of this case is Section 102.9 (e) which states:

If the candidate is not a candidate in the general election, all contributions made for the general election shall be either returned or refunded to the contributors or redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. 110.1(b)(5), or reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate (emphasis added).

This section explicitly addresses contributions received by a candidate's committee prior to the date of the primary for use in the general election.

The clear language of the regulations states that all contributions made for the general election may be refunded to the contributors. No deadline is established for refunds. Alternatively, such contributions may be redesignated or reattributed in accordance with procedures set forth in other parts of the regulations. Specifically, the regulations direct a candidate's committee to refer to Section 110.1(b)(5), or 110.2(b)(5) for redesignations of contributions and Section 110.1(k)(3) for reattributions of contributions. These sections, in turn, set forth specific requirements to act within sixty days of receipt of a contribution, but they do not apply to refund procedures. Moreover, nowhere in the Explanation and Justification for these regulations is there a suggestion that there is a sixty-day refund requirement for post-primary general election funds or that the regulations should be read with that understanding.

In fact, the Explanation and Justification specifically cites Advisory Opinion 1986-17 as authority for the treatment of refunds in these circumstances:

...a new sentence has been added at the end of § 102.9 (e) which provides that contributions made for a general election are to be either refunded to the contributors or redesignated or reattributed under 11 CFR 110.1 (b) (5), 110.1 (k) or 110.2 (b) (5) in the event that the candidate is not a candidate in that general election. See AO 1986-17.

Advisory Opinion 1986-17 specifically sets forth the time period for refunding general election funds:

[T]he Commission concludes that if you do not establish your candidacy with respect to the general election, your committee must refund within a reasonable time contributions designated for the general election, whether or not your committee has made any expenditure from these contributions, since a separate contribution limitation will not be available to these contributors with respect to the general election.

See also, Advisory Opinions 1992-15; 1985-41; 1982-49; and 1980-134 (contributions accepted for a general election in which a candidate does not participate "may have to be returned" (emphasis added)).<sup>3</sup> Section 102.9 (e) was amended in the regulations on January 9, 1987, six months after the Commission issued Advisory Opinion 1986-17. The reference to Advisory Opinion 1986-17 in the Explanation and Justification confirms that the Commission intended that refunds would be made "within a reasonable time" and that no sixty day period was imposed. Thus, neither the regulations nor the Advisory Opinions addressing general election contribution refunds support the Commission's analysis that such refunds must be made within sixty days. Indeed, they support the Committee's understanding of the applicable time period. This issue has never been considered by the Commission again.

<sup>3</sup> Advisory Opinion 1992-15 was also issued after the Section 102 and 110 regulations were in effect, and even there the Commission did not adopt a position that refunds were required within sixty days. That opinion created a new sixty day period for redesignations and reattributions. It did not require refund within sixty days of spent general election funds in the event of a primary loss.

3. The Commission Is Prohibited from Penalizing Respondents When They Reasonably Interpreted the Commissions Regulations and Guidance on the Treatment of General Election Funds

The facts of this case demonstrate that the Committee acted under a reasonable interpretation of the Commission's regulations and Advisory Opinions. While the Commission interprets the rules governing the use and refund of general election funds differently, the rules are unquestionably vague that they are susceptible to various reasonable interpretations. The Commission may wish, through prospective guidance to clarify the rules on the treatment of general election funds. Nevertheless, under the circumstances presented here, it is a violation of due process for the Commission to penalize the Committee.

As the court held in Satellite Broadcasting Co., Inc. v. FCC, 824 F.2d 1, 3 (D.C. Cir. 1987):

Traditional concepts of due process incorporated into administrative law preclude an agency from penalizing a private party for violating a rule without first providing adequate notice of the substance of the rule.

See also, Gates & Fox Co., Inc. v. OSHRC, 790 F.2d 154, 156 (D.C. Cir. 1986); McElroy Electronics Corp. v. FCC, 990 F.2d 1351, 1353 (D.C. Cir. 1993); and Reich v. Valley National Bank, 837 F. Supp. 1259, 1298 (S.D.N.Y. 1993).

While it is generally the practice to defer to a Federal agency's interpretation of its rules, the Court in Satellite Broadcasting held that it violates due process to penalize a party whose interpretation of the same rules was also reasonable:

To be sure we normally defer to an agency's reasonable interpretation of its own rules. Udall v. Tallman, 380 U.S. 1, 16-17, 85 S.Ct. 792, 801-02, 13 L.Ed.2d 616 (1965). And we assume, arguendo, that the FCC's interpretation here is a reasonable one. But . . . if the Commission had interpreted its rules as did petitioner we similarly would have been obliged to defer to that interpretation because it, at minimum, is also reasonable. There is the rub. The Commission through its regulatory power cannot, in effect, punish a member of the regulated class for reasonably interpreting Commission rules. Otherwise the practice of administrative law would come to resemble "Russian Roulette." The agency's interpretation is entitled to deference, but if it wishes to use that interpretation to cut off a party's right, it must give full notice of its interpretation. (emphasis added.)

842 F.2d at 3.

Similarly, in the present case, the Committee's reasonable interpretation of the Commission's rules on treating general election funds requires deference. Moreover, the Commission gave no notice in any of its guidance that the Committee's interpretation of the rules governing general election funds was improper. Thus, the Committee acted well within the available regulatory guidelines.

Commission Advisory Opinions expressly state that a candidate's committee may expend general election funds during the primary period. See Advisory Opinions 1992-15, 1986-17. In Advisory 1986-17, the Commission provides only general guidance on the appropriate uses of such funds<sup>4</sup>. The Commission never adopted any regulations on this issue. The Committee believes that it developed a reasonable methodology, based on that guidance, for expending these funds. The fundamental principle of the Commission's guidance is that the funds must be used to influence the general, not the primary, election. The Committee adhered to this principle, allocating only those expenses that related directly to the general election.

<sup>4</sup>Even Commissioner Harris in his dissenting opinion, expressed concern about the lack of clarity in the Commission's advice here: "[U]ncertainty as to the opinion's reach will give rise to numerous problems of interpretation and too much Commission hairsplitting."

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 3 2

The Committee's understanding of the appropriate procedure and timing for making refunds of general election contributions was also reasonable. As discussed above, a fair reading of the regulations does not require a committee to refund these contributions within a sixty-day time period. It requires only that the Committee receive redesignations or reattributions within sixty days. But, here the Committee did not attempt to redesignate or reattribute the contributions because it was not aware that a second opportunity was available under 1992-15 which was issued only a few months before the Wisconsin primary. Moreover, Advisory Opinions specifically addressing the refund requirements expressly state that refunds must be made within a "reasonable" period. See Advisory Opinions 1980-134; 1985-41; and 1982-49. Moreover, Advisory Opinion 1980-134 suggests that such contributions "may have to be returned" leaving the requirement to refund at all in question.

Indeed, the regulations could reasonably be read to impose no refund requirement under the circumstances of this case. Under Section 110.1, refunds are only required in the case where an individual is not a "candidate" in the general election. The Act and regulations define "candidate" as an individual who has received contributions or made expenditures aggregating in excess of $5,000. 2 U.S.C. § 431(2); 11 C.F.R. § 100.8. Accordingly, if an individual has raised or spent in excess of $5,000 in general election funds, he is a candidate in that election pursuant to this definition quite aside from whether he appears on the ballot or receives the primary nomination to run under state law. Therefore, Section 110.1 could fairly be interpreted as follows: if an individual, while running in the primary election, raises or spends in excess of $5,000 for the general election, he is a "candidate" in the general election for FECA purposes and is not required to refund any of the monies raised.

The Commission has uniformly used this definition of candidate throughout the regulations and Advisory Opinions. Candidacy status has been determined by an individual's financial activity, not by whether he or she appears on the state ballot. See, e.g., 11 C.F.R. 100.1 (a) (requirement to designate principal campaign committee triggered upon raising or spending in excess of $5000).

Quite anomalistically, the Commission has adopted an alternative definition of the term "candidate" solely for the purpose of requiring refunds of general election contributors. The result is inconsistent with other Commission guidance. Indeed, the Commission, in addressing analogous circumstances, has permitted candidates to collect and retain funds for an election even though they have not appeared on the ballot or even, in certain cases, qualified as official candidates under state law.

In Advisory Opinion 1986-12, the Commission ruled that a House candidate could lawfully retain funds raised for her primary election even though she never registered as a candidate for that election under state law. While she qualified as a "candidate" as defined by the FECA, she never filed as required under New York law to become a candidate in the primary. The Commission's ruling on subsequent treatment of funds raised for her primary campaign was based solely on her qualification as a candidate under the FECA definition. The fact that she was never a candidate for that election under state law, because she voluntarily decided not to file papers, did not affect her ability to raise and keep funds for the primary election:

You were a 1984 candidate for reelection to the House of Representatives under the Act and Commission regulations even though you had no opponents in the New York Democratic primary election scheduled to be held on September 31, 1984. The expiration of the filing date on July 26, 1984, ended your candidate status in the 1984 Congressional primary and general elections. Nevertheless, you were a Congressional candidate until July 26, 1984, and could lawfully receive (and retain) primary election contributions on or before that date.

See also AO 1978-37.

Similarly, in Advisory Opinion 1978-79, the Commission permitted a Senate "candidate" to raise funds for the general election despite the fact that, under state law, no general election was ever held for the office. The "candidate" was not required to run in the general election and, indeed, his name did not even appear on the November ballot. Nevertheless, the Commission ruled:

...the lack of opposition in the general election does not preclude the raising of additional contributions by your campaign committee in anticipation of the November 7 general election.

These opinions demonstrate that the Commission has otherwise consistently and uniformly relied on the definition of "candidate" under the Act to determine the treatment of funds by a candidate's committee in the case where "the candidate" does not actually run or appear on the ballot for a particular election. The Commission's position in this case is entirely inconsistent with prior guidance and regulations. Moreover, the Committee's interpretation was clearly reasonable and cannot, without violating due process, result in a finding of probable cause or a civil penalty.

4. The Commission's Application of Its Advisory Opinions and Regulations Violates the Principle of Equal Protection As Protected By the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment

As noted previously, Wisconsin's Senate primary election is among the latest in the nation. Unlike neighboring Illinois, for example, whose primary is in the spring, Wisconsin's primary is held only two months before the November general election. It is axiomatic that Respondent has a constitutional (as well as a statutory) right under the First, Fifth and Seventeenth Amendments to participate in the race for U.S. Senator. The Commission's decision to apply its regulations and advisory opinions in a manner that substantially impairs candidates from late primary states such as Wisconsin, while benefiting candidates from early primary states such as Illinois, violates the Due Process of the Fifth Amendment.

Although the Fifth Amendment does not contain an equal protection clause, it is well settled that the Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause incorporates an equal protection component. Bolling v. Sharpe, 347 U.S. 497 (1954). The equal protection analysis under the Fifth Amendment is the "same as that under the Fourteenth Amendment." Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 93 (1976). The touchstone of equal protection is whether those who are similarly situated receive equal treatment. City of Cleburne v. Cleburne Living Center, 473 U.S. 432, 439 (1985). Equal protection requires the Government to "apply its legislation and actions evenhandedly to all persons similarly situated in a designated class." Guarino v. Brookfield Township Trustees, 980 F.2d 399, 410 (6th Cir. 1992).

The Commission's administration of its rules in such a way as to place burdens on late primary candidates, not suffered by all other candidates, clearly violates Respondent's due process right to equal protection. Candidates running in states that hold early primaries have the entire summer to focus exclusively on the general election; they suffer no ill effect from the Commission's proposed application of its rule.<sup>5</sup> In contrast, candidates in late primary states, such as Wisconsin, do not have the luxury of waiting until the completion of the primary to begin preparation for the general election.

While the Commission has acknowledged the need of candidates running in late primaries to make general election expenditures, the Commission's application of this principle here is so restrictive it effectively precludes them from doing so. Several states, including Wisconsin, which have late primaries have recognized the necessity to develop clear rules for reasonable allocation of primary and general expenses. Thus, Wisconsin candidates, disadvantaged by the short period of time to prepare and run a general election, are permitted to prorate expenses to accurately reflect the purpose for which they are made. Wisconsin election regulations provide:

A candidate subject to the disbursement limitations... who disburses grant and other campaign funds:

(1) May prorate a disbursement between the primary election spending limit and the general election spending limit if the proration accurately reflects the use of the purchased materials or services in the respectively primary and general election campaigns.

(2) May use grant money from the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund to pay the amount allocated to the general Election even if the disbursement was made during the primary election.

Wisconsin Election Board Rule 1.455. Pursuant to these regulations, the Wisconsin Board developed extensive guidance for candidates to appropriately allocate disbursements. See Exhibit 2. The methodology underlying these guidelines is not inconsistent with the Commission's approval of general election spending in 1986-17.

Instead of clarifying the scope of permissible general election expenditures, the Commission has provided little guidance to campaigns. Moreover, by adopting now a restrictive interpretation of permissible general election expenditures, it has effectively refused to address the legitimate needs of candidates running in late primaries to prepare for the general election in a manner similar to candidates running in other states.

The Commission's proposed action impermissibly burdens late primary state candidates' abilities to effectively compete in the general election. Most significantly, the proposed rule disproportionately harms late primary state candidates. Equal protection requires that the Commission treat all Senate candidates similarly. By adoption of a rule only disadvantageous to late primary state candidates, the Commission has crossed the constitutional line and denied those situated like Respondent the equal protection of the laws.

5. The Commission Application of Its Advisory Opinions, and Regulations Violates Respondent's First Amendment Rights of Freedom of Speech

The Commission's interpretation of its regulations violates Respondent's First Amendment rights to freedom of speech and expression. In the seminal case Buckley v. Valeo, the Supreme Court upheld certain restrictions on the ability of a campaign to raise and spend money. 424 U.S. 1 (1976). In so do, however, the Court noted that any limitation on the First Amendment's right to associate, "is subject to the closest scrutiny." Id. at 25. Thus in order for the limitation to survive constitutional scrutiny, it must protect a "sufficiently important interest" and be "closely drawn to avoid unnecessary abridgment of associational freedoms." Id.

Respondents do not doubt the important governmental interest involved in the Commission's regulations. The Commission has a legitimate interest in limiting contributions in late primary and general elections, and it may enact regulations that serve those interests. Additionally, Respondents acknowledge that an allocation rule could be designed to avoid violations of the primary election contribution limit without "unnecessarily" handicapping candidates' First Amendment rights. However, the interpretation of these regulations in the present case is not sufficiently "closely drawn" to satisfy constitutional review.

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 7 7

The campaign needs of Senate candidates in July and August are identical in Illinois, Wisconsin and many other states. Indeed, unopposed primary candidates in Wisconsin or primary candidates with only token opposition, such as Senator Kasten, can make virtually unlimited general election expenditures in July and August. Undoubtedly, in July and August Senate candidates in other states with early primaries, and Senator Kasten in Wisconsin, did engage in extensive opposition research, polling, fundraising, media preparation and purchase of supplies for the general election. But, according to the Commission, candidates such as Mr. Moody must be severely penalized for engaging in some of the same general election activities in July and August. Mr. Moody has every right under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution to prepare for the general election in a reasonable manner. By making it virtually impossible to do so, the rules as interpreted by the Commission impermissibly burden his First Amendment rights.

Here, candidates running in competitive primaries are effectively prohibited from spending general election funds during the primary. The Commission says that such spending is permitted. As evidenced by the fact that the Commission has disallowed all of Respondents' expenditures, however, it is clear that the Commission's position in practice is that virtually all such spending violates the Act. Moreover, the Commission's position that refunds must be made within sixty days is also prohibitive and unconstitutional. A candidate is subject to too great a risk if he faces a substantial chance of losing the primary and, therefore, the requirement to refund contributions with no prospect of raising sufficient funds, and to do so within an unrealistically drawn time period.<sup>6</sup>

The Commission may tailor regulations and guidance to regulate this type of general election spending but cannot, as it has done here, effectively shut it down.

RATIONALE FOR GENERAL ELECTION EXPENDITURES
FRIENDS OF JIM MOODY CAMPAIGN
DECEMBER 11, 1992

Struble & Totten Communications - 3/31/92 FEC

The media contract between Friends of Jim Moody (FOJM) and Struble Totten Communications included opposition research fees. FOJM was required to pay in advance for research on all candidates, including Senator Robert Kasten. Kasten's voting record needed to be analyzed to help set campaign strategy. The $17,500 allocated to the general election was strictly for research on Senator Kasten, our general election opponent.

Micro Advisors - 3/31/92 FEC

FOJM approached Micro Advisors, a computer support company, to create software that would be needed by the campaign. The campaign finance software was designed to accurately distinguish between primary and general election contributions. Thus, the campaign expended funds to monitor general election receipts. $1,000 was allocated to the general election to cover these costs.

Aristotle - 6/30/92 FEC

Aristotle, another computer support company, was retained to help with problems with our computer -- including problems with our finance software -- and 50% of the cost was allocated to the general election.

Wisconsin Newspaper Association - 6/30/92 FEC

The FOJM solicited the services of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association to provide actual newsclips of articles of interest to the campaign. WNA was requested to clip articles regarding Senator Kasten -- both Congressional and campaign activity -- and therefore a portion of our clipping fees were allocated to the general election.

Burton & Mayer Printing Company - 6/30/92 FEC

As is usually the case, the more you print the cheaper it is. FOJM utilized Burton & Mayer to print large amounts of letterhead, envelopes, etc. The FOJM did not expect to order more for the general election, so a portion was allocated as a general election expenditure.

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 1 9
Rosemary Cribben - 6/30/92 FEC

Rosemary Cribben is a Washington D.C. based fundraising consultant who was retained by the FOJM. She was usually assigned the task of raising funds from "traditional sources" and her efforts secured many contributions that were required to be designated general election contributions. Therefore, a portion of her consulting fees were allocated to reflect the cost of raising general election funds.

Michael Donovan - 6/30/92 FEC

Michael Donovan was a Milwaukee based consultant who assisted Rosemary Cribben in fundraising efforts. Thus, a small allocation was made to the general election.

Fraioli & Jost, Inc. - 6/30/92 FEC

Fraioli & Jost is a Washington D.C. based fundraising firm which was retained by the FOJM. They were directed to help raise funds from PACS and other well known contributors. Many of the PACS who contributed to our general election fund did so at the prompting of Fraioli & Jost. Therefore, a proportionate share of their consulting fees were allocated to general election fundraising expenses.

Federal Express - 6/30/92 FEC

Federal Express was our primary vehicle for getting checks from contributors and consultants to our bookkeeper so that they may be deposited in a timely manner. General election contributions were also included so a fraction of the total bill was allocated to the general election.

Struble & Totten - 6/30/92 FEC

Again, a small percentage (23%) of our retainer was allocated to the general election to reflect the fact that the media contract extended through the general election.

Micro Advisors - 6/30/92 FEC

Less than 1/3 of our computer software creation costs were allocated to the general election. The software was up and running in February, and was needed to function at least through the general election.

Mellman & Lazarus - 6/30/92 FEC

Mellman & Lazarus was the polling firm retained by the FOJM. Similar to Struble & Totten, the consulting contract was arranged so that fees were paid in advance to cover through the general election -- regardless if we lose in the primary -- and is non-refundable. Additionally, some polling was conducted exclusively on our general election opponent, Senator Kasten, so that our general election strategy would harmonize with our primary election strategy.

Postmaster - 6/30/92 FEC

Postage is difficult to track on a per piece basis. However, it is clear that the campaign used a substantial amount of postage to solicit, thank, and seek reattributions/redesignations from general election contributors. During this period, less than 25% was allocated to the general election.

VISA - 6/30/92 FEC

The campaign placed most travel expenses on the VISA card. This particular expenditure included airline flights for the staffer working on the Senator Kasten research, and travel incurred by Jim Moody to fundraisers where general election contributions were accepted.

Mark Thomann - 6/30/92 FEC

Mark Thomann was the Finance Director for the FOJM. He assisted in raising general election funds and therefore a small portion of his consulting fee was allocated as a general election expenditure.

Time Insurance - 6/30/92

The campaign provided basic health insurance to those employees who needed coverage. The plan extended through November, 1992, so that they may be covered through the general election and for a short period before they start a new job. The insurance premium was required in full up front and therefore an appropriate portion was allocated as a general election expense.

Michael Donovan - 8/19/92 FEC

Fundraising consultant whose fee reflects the cost of raising general election funds.

Elan Mastercard - 8/19/92 FEC

A credit card reimbursement which covered travel expenses directly related to the general election.

Federal Express - 8/19/92 FEC

Mailing expenses related to collecting general election contributions.

Ameritech Credit Corporation - 8/19/92 FEC

Office phone lease which extended through the general election. Only 22% was allocated to the general election on this date, and it was the first time a payment to Ameritech Credit had been amortized to correctly reflect the cost of the phone lease for the general election.

AT & T - 8/19/92 FEC

Long distance charges billed to the FOJM were substantial. This is the first payment where the expenditure is partly allocated to the general election (18%) to reflect the cost of soliciting general election contributions.

96043702750

Quick! The Printer - 8/19/92 FEC

A printing order for certain issue papers which were expected to be used in the general election. Therefore less than 33% of the cost was allocated to the general election.

Burton & Mayer - 8/19/92 FEC

Another printing order for issue papers whose life expectancy was through the general election.

Struble & Totten - 8/19/92 FEC

Besides the advance consulting fees paid to Struble Totten prior to the general election season, they produced all of the footage used in our television commercials. They effectively shot enough footage on this and subsequent shoots to last through the general election. Commercial shoots are extremely expensive and the campaign felt it was cost effective to spend a little more now to prepare for the general election than to pay for numerous subsequent shoots.

Telematch - 8/19/92 FEC

A phone number search service for those who had "maxed out" for the primary election, and we wanted to reach in hopes of securing a general election contribution.

Wisconsin Newspaper Association - 8/19/92 FEC

Our news clipping service that provided as many if not more clips on Senator Kasten than our two primary opponents combined. Again, an accurate general election expense allocation has been made.

The Media Group - 8/19/92 FEC

The Media Group did all of the television commercial editing. As is the case with Struble Totten, they produced footage which was planned for the general election. Of the $51,853 paid to The Media Group on or after July 7, 1992, $21,500 or 41% was allocated to the general election. As stated earlier, many of the commercials edited by The Media Group had been geared for the general election. Again, due to the late primary (September 8) in Wisconsin, successful campaigns are required to research, shoot, and edit general election commercials well before the primary.

Mellman & Lazarus - 8/19/92 FEC

$3,000, or 13% of a $22,751 payment was designated as a general election expenditure because it covered polling/research on Senator Kasten.

Jim Moody - 8/19/92 FEC

Jim Moody made out-of-pocket payments for travel for himself and other consultants. When he was reimbursed, the campaign properly allocated those expenses related directly and exclusively to the general campaign.

Rosemary Cribben - 8/19/92 FEC

Rosemary Cribben's fundraising consulting fees were allocated to reflect what percentage of time was spent soliciting general election contributions.

Delahanty Screen Graphics - 8/19/92 FEC

This printing company was selected to print the yard/window signs for the campaign. 7,000 yard signs were ordered (to last through the general election) and as planned, only 3,000 or so yard signs were distributed for the primary election. The remainder were to be saved for the general election. Thus, an allocation was made that justifies the use of general election funds.

Mark Thomann - 8/19/92 FEC

Finance Director whose time was spent planning fundraising opportunities for both the primary and general elections. A portion of his fee was charged as a general election expense.

Fraioli & Jost, Inc. - 8/19/92 FEC

Washington, D.C. based fundraising consultants who actively attempted to raise general election funds. As the primary election drew nearer, a larger percentage of their efforts were aimed at trying to fund a general election campaign.

Harriman Communications - 8/19/92 FEC

Video tapes of speeches of primary and general election opponents. Cost of Senator Kasten footage allocated to the general election.

Brandon Mazur - 8/19/92 FEC

A part-time Washington, D.C. based fundraising consultant whose focus began to shift to raising general election funds as the primary grew nearer.

VISA - 8/19/92 FEC

Credit card reimbursement for campaign travel for the candidate and consultants. Thus, less than 25% was deemed to be exclusively in preparation of the general election and is reflected in this allocation.

Weber Printing - 8/19/92 FEC

Another large order of envelopes and press letterhead that was purchased to last through the fall campaign. Therefore, $2,000, or 37% of this particular purchase order was ascribed to the general election.

Western Union - 8/19/92 FEC

An urgent appeal was mailed to our best contributors. The proceeds of the mailing resulted in large amounts of dollars that were required to be designated to the general election. Thus, 46% of the cost of this mailing was allocated to the general election.

National Democratic Club - 8/19/92 FEC

PAC fundraising event in Washington, D.C. that raised a substantial amount of general election PAC contributions. Accordingly, the expenses of the event were allocated between primary and general election expense.

Postmaster - 8/19/92 FEC

Postage charges for soliciting and communicating with potential general election contributors. Mailings were also done that was specific to the general election -- they compared Kasten versus Moody -- and were done to get a start over our primary opponents. Although the possibility of losing the primary election was always real, the campaign realized the importance of not waiting until the final seven weeks to begin the general election.

James McCann - 8/19/92 FEC

Voter lists for both the primary and general elections. Cost was allocated to each election.

Wisconsin Bell - 8/19/92 FEC

Our local phone service was a very significant expense. The phone was used extensively to raise funds for the general election and phone charges had previously not been ascribed to the general election in any way. Thus, these local phone charges were designated as being crucial to raising general election funds.

A to Z Printing, Inc. - 9/30/92

The campaign incurred many printing charges for brochures, fund raiser invites, etc. that were never needed. Furthermore, this charge was also for paying for items to explain to our general election contributors that we would not be participating in that election.

S & S Mailing Service - 9/30/92 FEC

A mailing service was utilized to notify our numerous supporters about the campaigns change of plans about participating in the general election.

Burton & Mayer Printing - 9/30/92 FEC

Printing expenses were analyzed and it was estimated that slightly more than half of the payments to Burton & Mayer were exclusively to prepare for the general election.

James McCann - 9/30/92 FEC

More primary and general election voter lists. Costs were accurately ascribed to each election.

Cantrell Cutter Printer - 9/30/92 FEC

Cantrell Cutter was our Washington, D.C. based printer. Most of the printing done here was in support of PAC fund raising efforts and other targets which resulted in substantial general election contributions.

Struble & Totten Communications - 9/30/92 FEC

Some of our final consulting payments which covered service through the general election. The same situation as before: a payment for general election services being required before the primary is held.

The Media Group - 9/30/92 FEC

The Media Group was editing footage for the general election that was never used. The payments were made in the last week of the primary election, when almost all of our primary commercials were already finished. The Media Group was assisting Struble & Totten in preparing a general election media strategy.

Mark Thomann - 9/30/92 FEC

Again, ascribing labor costs to the cost of raising general election funds. Still, this amounted to less than 35% of the payment being charged to the general election.

Mellman & Lazaus - 9/30/92 FEC

Consulting payments that were made to our pollster that provided for service through the general election. Only 25% of this particular payment was allocated as a general election expense.

Paychex - 9/30/92 FEC

The payroll cost, and payroll preparation fee for labor to assist in returning general election contributions.

Weber Printing - 9/30/92 FEC

The printing cost for 5,000 envelopes which reflected the new address of the FOJRM (P.O. Box 93330) so that general contributions could be returned and to return contributions that were being made for the general election which the committee could not accept.

Postmaster - 9/30/92 FEC

Postage charges exclusively for returning general election contributions and notifying those contributors about the recent turn of events.

Quick! The Printer 9/30/92 FEC

Printing an insert for a mailer to our general contributors.

Econo Print - 9/30/92 FEC

Again, for printing an insert for mailing to our general election contributors. Direct printing cost due to the fact that we are not participating in the general election.

Fraioli & Joet, Inc. - 9/30/92 FEC

Final consulting payments to our fund raising consultants. Final payment was designated for the general election because F & J dealt almost exclusively with these contributors.

Wisconsin Bell - 9/30/92 FEC

Phone charges related directly to organizing the winding down of the committee and notifying general election contributors.

Yood & Associates, Inc. - 9/30/92 FEC

Yood & Associates was retained to make t-shirts in support of our campaign. Enough shirts were ordered for both the primary and general election. Thus, a portion (40%) was allocated as directly relating to the general election campaign.

RE: Memorandum Concerning Allocation of Expenditures for Candidates who Receive a Grant From the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund.

COPY

Pursuant to the Board's request at the March 12, 1986, meeting staff has redrafted a proposed memorandum to be distributed to candidates who apply for and receive grants from the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund. The memorandum supplements information in the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund Manual relative to the allocation of expenditures between a primary and an election period. The changes appear in Item 1 relative to the replacement of the word "expenditures" with the word "production", Item 4 relative to the allocation of administrative expenses and Item 5 relative to fundraising expenses which relate to the printing of invitations and postage for such events.

Recommendation.

The Board may wish to reconsider distributing this memorandum to Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund candidates for the following reasons;

1. Attorney James Klauser stated in a letter dated March 10, 1986 (attached) that the proposed memo, whether by staff or otherwise, can only establish a guideline. He states that the test of reason should control and that the memo does not have the force of an administrative rule.
2. Attorney Klauser also expressed concern relative to the staff or the Board taking a position on "what is reasonable." He indicated that if the Board or staff were to make such a determination in the absence of a rule that prosecuting such a violation based on a "rule of reason" would be difficult.
3. While the purpose of the memorandum is to provide guidelines for allocating expenditures, the burden of proof remains with the candidate in establishing "a reasonable" method of allocation. The Board/staff may be determining what is reasonable and what is not, thus we are then establishing a rule of reason. In doing so, we then shift the responsibility for making such a determination away from the candidate. In the absence of an administrative rule, the Board may not have such authority.

4. Previously staff has addressed inquiries which relate to expenditure allocations on a case by case basis. In doing so we have the opportunity to ask specific questions concerning when the goods, services or materials were actually used and/or dates of payments, etc. As such, we are able to help a registrant to determine appropriate allocations according to the specific circumstances surrounding each expenditure. It appears to be more beneficial to the candidates to continue the practice of dealing with questions as they arise. This practice also reaffirms Board policy to educate registrants.
5. Item 4 of the memo clearly states that expenses such as the cost of equipment (typewriters, computers, calculators, etc.) may not be allocated to a future campaign. This practice is contrary to previous Board direction to staff relating to the allocation of expenditures for office equipment such as a computer to future elections. Note that in Kevin Kennedy's letter of February 10, 1984 to Senator Russell Feingold, we have advised that the purchase price of a computer "needs to be spread out over the course of any political campaign." Similar information has been disseminated to other registrants when this question was raised.

NOTE:

If we distribute this memorandum to candidates it will be necessary to advise all registrants that the Board has changed its opinion regarding these purchases and that the initial cost may no longer be allocated to present and future elections. Thus, registrants would be advised to report the continued use of such equipment as the reuse of surplus materials under ss.11.06(1m) and 11.01(7)5, Stats.

Recommendation.

Staff recommends that the Board approve one of the following recommendations;

1. Staff will continue to respond to inquiries concerning appropriate allocations of expenditures to the primary or election or both. In doing so staff would use the attached guidelines as a basis for providing such advice.

2. The Board will distribute the attached guidelines as a supplement to the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund Manual to all candidates who apply for a grant. When the manuals are reprinted, the guidelines will be incorporated into the section which deals with the allocation of primary/election expenditures.
3. The Board will direct staff to prepare an administrative rule which incorporates these guidelines. The Board will review the draft at its next meeting.

RE: Allocation of Expenditures Between the Primary and Election Period.

The purpose of this memorandum is to supplement information which is set out on pages 11 and 12 of the "Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund Information and Instruction Manual" which pertains to allocation of primary and election related expenditures.

When a candidate applies for a grant from the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund, the candidate agrees to limit the amount of money he or she will spend in the primary and the election campaign, ss.11.31(2), 11.50(2)(i), Stats. Any expenditure for use during the primary or election for the office sought counts against the primary or election limit and the total campaign spending limit, s.11.31(7), Stats., ElBd 1.44, Wis. Adm. Code. If there is only one candidate for an office in each political party in the primary, the candidates are not subject to separate primary and election spending limits. The candidates are bound only by the total spending limit, s.11.31(3m), Stats.

1 A candidate may allocate expenditures between the primary and the election spending limit. s.11.31(4), Stats. Advertising that runs within a specific period may not be allocated to another report period, s.11.31(4), (5), Stats. Whenever allocation is required, a candidate who disburses less than the authorized level in the primary may not reallocate the balance to increase the level in the election.

2 Pursuant to the provisions in s.11.31(5), Stats., when a person or committee contracts for goods to be delivered or services to be performed after the date of the primary, regardless of the time the contract is entered into by the contracting person or committee, the payment is considered an election related expenditure.

3 The method of allocating expenditures between the primary and the election depends largely on when the item or service is actually used. If an item or service is purchased and/or used in a primary period, it represents a primary expenditure. If an item or service is purchased for use in both the primary and the election, the costs should be allocated proportionately according to actual use in the primary and the election periods. Similarly, if the item or service is purchased and/or used in the election period, the expenditure is considered an election expenditure.

1. Television, Radio and Newspaper Ads

Expenditures for media advertising should be allocated according to when ads actually appear in the medium. For example, if a television ad is aired between January 1 of an even numbered year and midnight the night of a primary, the cost of that ad should be allocated to the primary. If an ad agency develops a series of television or radio spots to be aired in both the primary and the election period, production costs, should be allocated proportionately to the time in which the ads actually appear. Thus, if the ads appeared for ten days in the primary period and twenty days in the election period, one-third of the production expenses should be allocated to the primary and two-thirds to the election.

2. Political Consulting

Political consulting is an on-going service which may be contracted for many months before the primary and election. Expenses for such services should be allocated according to the purpose and benefit of the services provided by the consultant. For example, if a consultant develops information which relates to voting trends in a particular area for a primary or election period, the expense should be allocated according to the actual resulting benefit. If the information is of greater benefit to the primary, then a greater portion of the cost should be allocated to the primary, etc. If a consultant provides advice to a candidate which relates to campaign strategy or targeting of issues, a reasonable allocation between the primary and election should be made. If the value of consultation is greater in a primary period than the election period, then the greater portion of the entire cost should be allocated accordingly.

If consultant expenses consist of charges for brochure design, television or radio spots, newspaper or other printed material and the benefit gained relates to both the primary and election, the expenses should be allocated equally or apportioned according to the benefit received.

There should be a reasonable basis for each allocation. The allocation should reflect the candidate's perception of the actual benefit received for the service performed.

3. Yard Signs, Billboards, Bumper Stickers, Stationery, Flyers, Etc.

This type of printed advertising may be purchased at any time before or during the primary or election period. The method for allocating these expenditures should be based on when the items are actually distributed. A reasonable method for allocation is one which reflects actual use or distribution of materials. Therefore, if yard signs, billboards, bumper stickers, stationery or flyers are printed and distributed in a primary period the cost should be allocated to the primary. If these items are distributed in both the primary and the election period, the costs may be allocated equally between the primary and the election. If there are items which are purchased and not distributed in either the primary or the election period (excess materials), the costs must still be allocated to the primary, the election, or both. A candidate may not deduct the cost of materials purchased in a primary or election period which are unused at the close of the election.

4. Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses such as the purchase of office equipment and supplies, repairs to equipment, rent, utilities, and salaries must be allocated to the primary or election based on when actual disbursements are made or when the material or services were used. For example, if rent and utilities were paid monthly between January 1 and the September primary these expenses must be allocated to the primary. Similar expenses paid for after the primary (the second Wednesday in September through December) must be allocated to the election.

Office equipment which is purchased after January 1 in an election year and before the primary may be allocated as a primary and election expense if used continuously in both the primary and election period. Office supply expenses such as stationery, envelopes, paper clips, staples, etc. must be allocated to the primary or election based on when the disbursement is made. The cost of equipment or supplies which are purchased in a primary or election period may not be allocated to a future campaign. Any equipment and supplies which represent surplus materials after an election period must be reported as such if the original cost exceeds $400. Surplus materials are excludable from spending limits. s.11.31(10), Stats.

5. Fundraising Expenses

All nonexcludable fundraising expenses such as the printing of invitations and postage for invitations should be allocated to the primary or election based on when the fundraiser is actually held.

6. Miscellaneous Expenses

All other miscellaneous expenses such as reimbursements for travel, food and lodging should be allocated to the primary or election based on when the expense is actually incurred. Therefore, if travel, food or lodging expenses are incurred in a primary period, even though the expenses may not be paid for until the election period, the costs should be allocated to the primary period.

Candidates are responsible for establishing a formula for allocation and must consistently apply it to similarly related expenses. Specific questions concerning allocations should be directed to staff for review on a case by case basis.

Mr. Kevin B. Cronin
Legal Counsel
State Elections Board
132 East Wilson Street, Third Floor

Dear Mr. Cronin:

Thank you for your recent correspondence relative to actions of the State Elections Board regarding the allocation of campaign expenses between the primary and general elections. I do think it would be desirable to adopt an administrative rule to afford guidelines. An administrative rule is the only way that the Board can develop generic guidelines for application of a primary and general allocation standard which could be more specific and helpful than the "rule of reason."

As a result of Wisconsin's late primary day relative to the election, a candidate is obliged to simultaneously run two campaigns: one for the general and one for the primary. For candidates accepting public financing, Wisconsin law establishes a total spending limit as well as limits for the general and primary elections.

The easiest example to understand is the Governor's race, though the same could be true of the other state offices. The election laws allow $300,000 to be spent for the primary, $700,000 for the general, or $1 million for both (rounded).

However, expenses for the general will be incurred during the primary period. An example of these include:

Mr. Kevin B. Cronin

March 10, 1986

Media -- Any major campaign will spend several hundred thousand dollars for media in the general. The cost of producing and perhaps even actually buying that time will be incurred prior to the day of the primary. Some of the media utilized may be utilized in both the primary and general. Some method of allocation must be used.

A staff person may be retained to assist in raising funds. After subtracting the approximate amount of public financing, $750,000 would have to be raised: $300,000 for the primary, $450,000 for the general. Much of this activity for both elections would occur before the general.

Surveys may be taken which will guide the strategies for both the primary and the general, but the funds would probably be expended prior to the date of the primary.

Other staff will be retained and expenditures made during the course of the two campaigns which will relate to both the primary and the general. You can't start and mount a successful statewide general election campaign in the general election between Labor Day and November.

Development of voter lists, county campaign teams, and almost all campaign activity takes time and must start early. The easy approach would be to allocate on the basis of when the expenditure is made, i.e., if before the primary, it relates to the primary. However, to allocate an expenditure made during the primary to the primary period when, in fact, it also benefits the general election campaign would be contrary to the law.

The best thing would be for the Legislature, for at least the statewide offices, to eliminate the differentiation and have only a total campaign limit. Certainly, this lack of clarity can benefit an incumbent office holder. While it is now impractical for the Board to do anything further, I would hope they would keep this on their agenda for a future time after this election concludes.

P.S. I drafted this letter prior to reviewing the March 12, 1986, agenda item. I generally concur with the proposed memo concerning this topic. However, the memo, whether by staff or otherwise, can only establish a guideline. The test of reason controls. A memo does not have the force of an administrative rule.

Obviously, the staff feels their position is reasonable. As a consequence, regardless of Board action on the memo, a standard of reason is evolving.

Re: MUR 4156, Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as Treasurer

Dear Mr. Noble:

This letter supplements our February 3, 1995, response to the Commission's reason to believe finding in this matter. On page 9 of our response we state that the Commission has uniformly defined candidate as "an individual who has received contributions or made expenditures aggregating in excess of $5,000." We also state that candidacy status has been uniformly determined by an individual's financial activity, not by whether he or she appears on the state ballot.

Our statements in this regard are supported by the Commission's Advisory Opinion 1994-5, in which the Commission states that the definition of "candidate" is not dependent on whether the candidate appears on the ballot or whether the candidate is at any time eligible to appear on the ballot. Rather, the Commission states:

The question of whether you are a candidate under the Act and Commission regulations depends upon the amount of financial activity by you or by any person, including a campaign committee, you authorized to conduct campaign activity on your behalf. When financial activity to influence your election exceeds $5,000 and either contributions received or expenditures made, you are required to file as a Senate candidate.

This means that you would become a candidate under the Act if you or your campaign committee, and any other person you authorized to conduct campaign activity on your behalf, receive a total amount that exceeds $5,000 in contributions.

The position that the Commission took in this and other advisory opinions supports our argument that Mr. Moody indeed qualified as a general election candidate having raised and spent in excess of $5,000 for the general election.

In addition, we would like to correct two typographical errors on page 9. In the second paragraph the references to Section 110.1 should instead be to Section 102.9(e).

GENERAL COUNSEL'S REPORT

SENSITIVE

I. BACKGROUND

On December 6, 1994, the Commission found reason to believe that Friends of Jim Moody ("Moody campaign") and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer ("respondents"), violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) by accepting excessive contributions totaling $168,741.76 in connection with the 1992 Senatorial primary and general elections in Wisconsin. On the same date, the Commission offered to enter into pre-probable cause negotiations, and approved a proposed conciliation agreement. In its response, the Moody campaign states that it is "not prepared to settle this matter through preprobable cause conciliation," and requests that the Commission "dismiss this matter with no further action." Attachment A at 1. In making this request, respondents do not dispute that they accepted excessive contributions, most of which they have still failed to refund. Instead, they raise a number of procedural and Constitutional arguments as a defense. As we conclude below, however, each of these arguments is without merit. Thus, this Office recommends that the Commission deny respondents' request for no further action. In light of the foregoing, this Office recommends moving on to the next stage of the enforcement process. Accordingly, this Office is presently preparing to send a brief in this matter.

II. ANALYSIS

As noted in the First General Counsel's Report ("FGCR"), the Reports Analysis Division ("RAD") found that the Moody campaign accepted $168,741.76 in excessive contributions for the 1992 primary and general elections. In particular, RAD found that the Moody campaign accepted $67,071.76 in contributions designated for the 1992 primary election which were in excess of the limitations for individuals at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1) and the limitations for political action committees at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2). Of this amount, $8,426.48 was refunded, but not on a timely basis, while the remaining $58,645.30 was not refunded at all.

RAD also found that the Moody campaign accepted excessive contributions totaling $101,669.98 for the 1992 general election. Mr. Moody lost the September 8, 1992, primary election and thus did not participate in the general election. Therefore, the Moody campaign was not permitted to retain any contributions designated for the 1992 general election. See 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); Advisory Opinions ("AOs") 1992-15, 1986-17, 1985-41, 1980-122, 1980-68. The Moody campaign did not refund any of these general election excessive contributions.

The Moody campaign states that its making general election expenditures prior to the primary election was entirely permissible, and consistent with Commission guidance as set out in AO 1986-17. The Committee highlights the problems encountered by late primary candidates such as Mr. Moody, and specifically asserts that such candidates must make certain general election expenditures prior to the primary if they are to have a chance at a general election victory. Respondents would include expenses such as opposition research, fundraising costs and campaign consultants for the general election as well as office/personnel expenses payable in advance. Respondents first argue that the Commission's rules governing the treatment of general election contributions violate due process because they are "unquestionably vague." See Attachment A at 7. They also contend that since the applicable regulation (11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e)) does not specify that refunds must be made within 60 days of a primary defeat, they should have been given a "reasonable" time to make such refunds, the standard used prior to 1987.<sup>1</sup> The Moody campaign asserts further that it should not be "penalized" because its interpretation of the refund requirement was a "reasonable" alternative, relying on Satellite Broadcasting Co. Inc. v. FCC, 824 F.2d 1 (D.C. Cir. 1987).

At the outset, we note that all of respondents' arguments appear to address their acceptance of 1992 general election contributions, the election in which Mr. Moody did not participate. Yet a substantial amount of the contributions at issue were made with respect to the 1992 primary election. Thus, although the respondents request that the Commission dismiss this entire matter, they offer no basis for this request as it pertains to contributions made to the primary election campaign.

1. Commission regulations promulgated April 8, 1987 required that corrective action regarding excessive contributions be taken within sixty days. 52 Fed. Reg. 760 (January 9, 1987). Among the other regulations revised on that date which involve the 60 day time frame for refunding excessive contributions are 11 C.F.R. §§ 103.3 and 110.1 and 110.2. Before then, refunds were to be made within a "reasonable" time. The Opinion upon which respondents rely, AO 1986-17, predated the 60 day corrective action requirement. On the other hand, as discussed later in this report, AO 1992-15 addresses this very issue, making it clear that such refunds must be made within 60 days of a primary defeat.

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 7 2

In any event, the Moody campaign misconstrues the nature of the violations here. This matter involves the acceptance of contributions which are in excess of the limitations of the Act. It does not, as the campaign's response suggests, involve violations for making general election expenditures before the primary.<sup>2</sup> As explicitly noted in AO 1986-17, the Act does not prohibit a candidate committee from spending designated general election contributions on that election prior to the primary election where it is necessary to make advance payments or deposits. AO 1986-17 at page 5. The Act does, however, clearly set forth the law that is applicable to the violations at issue in this matter: it explicitly states the contribution limitations, it provides that such limitations are to be applied separately with respect to each election, and it states that contributions in excess of such amounts shall not be accepted by any candidate committee. See 2 U.S.C. §§ 441a(a)(1),(2) and (6) and 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).<sup>3</sup> Furthermore, the law is not vague regarding the "treatment" of such funds: the Commission's regulations require that candidate committees use an acceptable accounting method to

2. Respondents appear to have misconstrued the Factual and Legal Analysis ("F&L") in this matter. The key issue here is not whether or not these pre-primary general election expenditures were permissible, but that "the entire amount was required to be refunded timely after the primary defeat." F&L at page 4. The F&L included a discussion of a secondary issue addressed in AO 1986-17; that is, whether the candidate may have spent contributions designated for the general election on the primary election, in circumvention of the Act's limitations. As the Moody campaign's response indicates that it did not make such expenditures, this issue is no longer relevant.

3. In the 1974 legislative history, Senator Cannon summarized this principle: "individuals cannot give to any candidate or political committee supporting that candidate more than $1,000 for each election in which the candidate participates." 120 Cong. Rec. S18525.

distinguish between primary and general election funds. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e). Beyond that, the Act, Commission's regulations and numerous advisory opinions make it clear that if a candidate does not participate in a general election, contributions to that election must be refunded or returned, or when appropriate, redesignated and/or reattributed. 11 C.F.R. §§ 102.9(e) and 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C); AO's 1992-15, 1986-17, 1985-41, 1980-122, 1980-68.

Notably, even if we were to accept the Moody campaign's contention that the "reasonable" time period for refunds applies here, respondents have failed to meet their own standard. Indeed, the Moody campaign has yet to refund more than $100,000 in contributions given for the 1992 general election. Furthermore, allowing arguendo the possibility of confusion regarding the timing of refunds, the issue was squarely resolved in AO 1992-15, an Opinion issued before the election in question. There, the Commission explicitly stated that "the point from which to measure the time period for redesignation or refund is 60 days from the date of the" primary defeat. AO 1992-15 at page 3 (emphasis added).<sup>4</sup> In addition, the cases respondents rely on to make this due process argument are easily distinguishable. For instance, although the corporation in Satellite Broadcasting v. FCC, 824 F.2d 1 (D.C. Cir. 1987) had sent its satellite license application to the wrong location, the license had been timely sent to and received by the FCC. In contrast, the Moody campaign has yet to refund most of these excessive contributions. Thus, the campaign has not complied with the "reasonable" time regulation for refunds it now attempts to use as a defense.

The Moody campaign goes on to argue that it is unclear whether refunds are required at all in this instance because Mr. Moody may have been a "candidate" for the general election. In making this argument, the respondents look to the definition of a "candidate" set forth in the Act. According to the respondents, the Act "defines a 'candidate' as an individual who has received contributions or made expenditures aggregating in excess of $5,000." Attachment A at 9, citing 2 U.S.C. § 431(2)(A). In a supplement to its response in this matter, respondents promote Advisory Opinion 1994-5 in support of their contention that the definition of "candidate" is not dependent on the individual's ballot eligibility. AO 1994-5, issued two years after the Moody campaign's election involvement, emphasizes only that the $5,000 threshold of financial activity to influence an election triggers an individual's filing requirement with respect to the statute. That Opinion does not address the issue here: contribution limitations.<sup>5</sup> Indeed, AO 1994-5 reiterates that once an individual reaches the $5,000 threshold of campaign activity, that individual must file as a candidate "and must otherwise comply with all provisions of the Act and Commission regulations." Id (emphasis added). In fact, the regulations at issue here require, and the Commission's Opinions uphold, that a candidate who does not participate in the general election must refund, redesignate,

5. The 1979 legislative history explicitly states that the intent of Congress in establishing the $5,000 filing threshold was to reduce the number of candidates required to register and report under the Act.

or reattribute contributions received for that election.

11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e). See AOs 1986-17 and 1992-15. Furthermore, after his primary defeat Mr. Moody was no longer "seeking" election. Thus, at that point, whether or not he met the $5,000 threshold was irrelevant, and refunds were required. See 2 U.S.C. § 431(2); See also AO 1994-30 and FGCR in MUR 4189 (Friends of Patrick J. Buchanan).

Arguing further that refunds are not required, the Moody campaign also relies on AO 1986-12, but to no avail. In that Opinion, the Commission ruled that a member of Congress who determined not to seek re-election shortly before the New York State primary filing deadline could transfer to a "testing the waters" committee undesignated contributions received prior to that deadline. See AO 1986-12. However, with respect to contributions like those at issue here which were donor-designated for the general election, the Commission ruled that such funds must be returned. See AO 1986-12. Indeed, that Opinion and others, along with the regulations, make it clear that corrective action must be taken regarding general election contributions if a candidate does not participate in the general election. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C).

Respondents also argue that Section 441a(a), as applied by the Commission through its Advisory Opinions and Regulations, violates their fifth amendment right to equal protection of law and their first amendment right to free speech. Attachment A at 11-14. Specifically, respondents claim that by restricting general election spending prior to the primary election, the Commission "substantially impairs candidates from late primary states such as Wisconsin." Id. at 11. At issue is the acceptance of excessive contributions that respondents did not refund. The issue is not, as respondents suggest, the making of general election expenditures before the primary. In any event, there is no evidence that the Moody campaign was treated any differently from any other "similarly situated" committee, and they neither alleged nor showed any intent by the FEC to discriminate. City of Cleburne, Tex. v. Cleburne Living Center, 473 U.S. 432 (1985).

Respondents further contend that the Commission's requirement that refunds be made within 60 days violates their first amendment right of free speech. Attachment A at 13. According to respondents, given the 60 day refund requirement, "candidates . . . are effectively prohibited from spending general election funds during the primary." Id. at 14. And in view of the "an unrealistically drawn time period" to refund, "[a] candidate is subject to too great a risk if he faces a substantial chance of losing the primary." Id. at 14. Putting aside the merits of this argument, there is no evidence that the refund requirement even had any effect on the spending at issue in this matter. Indeed, the respondents appear to have spent upwards of $100,000 in general election contributions prior to the primary.

In any event, the Act's contribution limitations, which the Court upheld as facially valid to a first amendment challenge in Buckley, prohibit the acceptance of any contributions in excess of its limits. Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 31 (1974). When rejecting an analogous argument related to minor parties in Buckley, the Court stated that the Act "applies the same limitations on contributions to all candidates," and "[a]bsent evidence of invidious discrimination against [primary election losers] a court should generally be hesitant to invalidate legislation which on its face imposes evenhanded restrictions."

id.<sup>6</sup>

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 7 7
In summary, the Act's contribution limitations apply separately with respect to each election. 2 U.S.C. §§ 441a(a)(1),(2) and (6). The Act prohibits candidate committees from accepting contributions in excess of those limitations. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). The Commission, through its duly promulgated regulations, has given candidates a grace period within which they must refund, redesignate and/or reattribute excessive contributions. Since April 8, 1987, that grace period has been 60 days. The Commission has also made clear that if a candidate does not participate in a general election, he or she may not keep contributions given with respect to that election. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C); AO's 1995-15, 1986-17. Respondents have accepted excessive contributions totaling $168,741.76 for 1992 primary and general elections, and have failed to adhere to the refund requirement. In light of the foregoing, this Office recommends that the Commission deny the respondents' request to take no further action. Accordingly, this Office will prepare a brief in this matter.

CERTIFICATION

I, Marjorie W. Emmons, Secretary of the Federal Election Commission, do hereby certify that on April 7, 1995, the Commission decided by a vote of 6-0 to take the following actions in MUR 4156:

1. Deny the request of Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, to take no further action in this matter.
2. Approve the appropriate letter, as recommended in the General Counsel's Report dated April 4, 1995.

Commissioners Aikens, Elliott, McDonald, McGarry, Potter, and Thomas voted affirmatively for the decision.

Dear Mr. Bauer:

On December 15, 1994, your clients were notified that the Commission determined to enter into negotiations directed toward reaching a conciliation agreement in settlement of this matter prior to a finding of probable cause to believe. On that same date, your clients were sent a conciliation agreement the Commission offered in settlement of this matter. Thereafter, on behalf of your clients you submitted a request that no further action be taken in this matter.

The Commission has considered your request and determined to reject it. As the 30 day limit has passed for conciliation negotiations entered into prior to a finding of probable cause to believe, this Office will proceed to the next stage of the enforcement process.

Should you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3400.

RE: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody and
Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Mr. Bauer and Ms. Schadler:

Based on information ascertained in the normal course of carrying out its supervisory responsibilities, on December 6, 1994, the Federal Election Commission found reason to believe that Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, ("your clients") violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f), and instituted an investigation in this matter.

After considering all the evidence available to the Commission, the Office of the General Counsel is prepared to recommend that the Commission find probable cause to believe that the violations have occurred.

The Commission may or may not approve the General Counsel's recommendation. Submitted for your review is a brief stating the position of the General Counsel on the legal and factual issues of the case. Within 15 days of your receipt of this notice, you may file with the Secretary of the Commission a brief (ten copies if possible) stating your position on the issues and replying to the brief of the General Counsel. (Three copies of such brief should also be forwarded to the Office of the General Counsel, if possible.) The General Counsel's brief and any brief which you may submit will be considered by the Commission before proceeding to a vote of whether there is probable cause to believe a violation has occurred.

If you are unable to file a responsive brief within 15 days, you may submit a written request for an extension of time. All requests for extensions of time must be submitted in writing five days prior to the due date, and good cause must be demonstrated. In addition, the Office of the General Counsel ordinarily will not give extensions beyond 20 days.

A finding of probable cause to believe requires that the Office of the General Counsel attempt for a period of not less than 30, but not more than 90 days, to settle this matter through a conciliation agreement.

Should you have any questions, please contact Fran B. Hagan, the staff member assigned to this matter, at (202) 219-3400.

GENERAL COUNSEL'S BRIEF

I. STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On December 6, 1994, the Commission found reason to believe that Friends of Jim Moody ("Moody campaign") and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer ("Respondents"), violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) by accepting excessive contributions totaling $168,741 in connection with the 1992 Senatorial primary and general elections in Wisconsin. In its response to the reason to believe finding, the Moody campaign requested that the Commission "dismiss this matter with no further action." In making this request, respondents did not dispute that they accepted excessive contributions, most of which they have still failed to refund. Instead, they raised a number of procedural and Constitutional arguments as a defense. On April 7, 1995, the Commission denied the request for no further action.

II. ANALYSIS

The Federal Election Campaign of 1971, as amended ("the Act") prohibits a candidate or committee from knowingly accepting any contribution in violation of the provisions of Section 441a. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). The limit for individuals and political committees without multi-candidate status is $1,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A). The limit for political action committees qualified as multi-candidate committees is $5,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2)(A). The Act provides that the limitations are to be applied separately with respect to each election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(6).<sup>1</sup>

The Commission, through its duly promulgated regulations, has given candidates a grace period within which they must refund, redesignate and/or reattribute excessive contributions. Since April 8, 1987, that grace period has been 60 days. See 11 C.F.R. §§ 103.3(b)(3), 110.1(b)(3) and 110.2(b)(3).<sup>2</sup> The Act, Commission's regulations and numerous advisory opinions also make clear that if a candidate does not participate in a general election, he or she may not keep contributions given with respect to that election. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C); Advisory Opinions ("AO's") 1992-15, 1986-17, 1982-49. Such contributions shall either be refunded to the contributors, or redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(5) or 110.2(b)(5), and/or reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate.

11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) also provides that if a candidate receives contributions prior to the date of the primary election,

1. In the 1974 legislative history, Senator Cannon summarized this principle: "individuals cannot give to any candidate or political committee supporting that candidate more than $1,000 for each election in which the candidate participates." 120 Cong. Rec. S18525.

2. Among the other regulations revised on that date which involve the 60 day time frame for refunding excessive contributions are 11 C.F.R. §§ 103.3 and 110.1 and 110.2. 52 Fed. Reg. 760 (January 9, 1987). Prior to the 1987 revisions, refunds were to be made within a "reasonable" time.

which contributions are designated in writing by the contributor for use in connection with the general election, such candidate or such committee shall use an acceptable accounting method to distinguish between contributions received for the primary election and contributions received for the general election.

Disclosure reports submitted by the Moody campaign reveal that it accepted $168,741 in excessive contributions in connection with the 1992 primary and general elections. Specifically, the Commission's Reports Analysis Division ("RAD") calculated that the Moody campaign accepted $67,071 in contributions designated for the 1992 primary election which were in excess of the limitations for individuals at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1) and the limitations for political action committees at 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2). Of this amount, $8,426 was refunded, but not on a timely basis, while the remaining $58,645 was not refunded at all.

RAD also calculated that the Moody campaign accepted excessive contributions totaling $101,669 for the 1992 general election which were not refunded. However, Mr. Moody lost the September 8, 1992, primary election and thus did not participate in the general election. Therefore, the Moody campaign was not permitted to retain any contributions designated for the 1992 general election. See 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); AOs 1992-15, 1986-17, 1985-41, 1982-49, 1980-122, 1980-68.<sup>3</sup>

3. After the primary, the Committee refunded $34,313.88 on a pro-rata basis, apparently representing the unspent amount of the receipts designated for the general election campaign. The amount of general election expenditures not refunded was apparently reported as a debt outstanding.

III. DISCUSSION OF RESPONDENTS' REQUEST FOR DISMISSAL

In their request to take no further action, respondents raise a number of procedural and Constitutional arguments, none of which has merit. Respondents explain that in view of Wisconsin's late primary date (September 8, 1992), they raised anticipatory general election contributions during the primary period and made general election expenditures using such funds. They first argue that the Commission's application of the Act and regulations in this matter violates due process, as the regulations and opinions are vague and conflicting.<sup>4</sup>

Contrary to Respondents' contentions, the law in this area is very clear. As explicitly noted in AO 1986-17, the Act does not prohibit a candidate committee from spending designated general election contributions on that election prior to the primary election where it is necessary to make advance payments or deposits. AO 1986-17 at page 5.<sup>5</sup> The Act does, however, make

4. All of respondents' arguments appear to address their acceptance of 1992 general election contributions, the election in which Mr. Moody did not participate. Yet a substantial amount of the excessive contributions at issue were made with respect to the 1992 primary election. Respondents offered no basis for dismissing this matter as it pertains to contributions made to the primary election campaign.

5. Respondents appear to have misconstrued the Factual and Legal Analysis ("F&L") in this matter. The key issue here is not whether or not these pre-primary general election expenditures were permissible, but that "the entire amount was required to be refunded timely after the primary defeat." F&L at page 4. The F&L included a discussion of another issue addressed in AO 1986-17; that is, whether the candidate may have spent contributions designated for the general election on the primary election, in circumvention of the Act's limitations. The Moody campaign's response indicates that it did not make such expenditures.

clear that there are contribution limitations and that they apply separately with respect to each election. See 2 U.S.C.

§§ 441a(a)(1), (2) and (6) and 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). Beyond that, the Commission's regulations and numerous advisory opinions explicitly state that if a candidate does not participate in a general election, contributions to that election must be refunded or returned, or when appropriate, redesignated and/or reattributed. 11 C.F.R. §§ 102.9(e) and 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C); AO's 1992-15, 1986-17, 1985-41, 1982-49, 1980-122, 1980-68.

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 8 7
The Moody campaign suggests that there is conflict regarding when such refunds must be made, arguing that they should be given a "reasonable time" because 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) does not specify that refunds must be made within 60 days. As noted above, since 1987 the Commission has required that refunds of excessive contributions, or other corrective action, be taken within 60 days. Moreover, as the Committee has failed to refund more than $100,000 in contributions given for the 1992 general election it has not even met the "reasonable" time standard it now claims should be used. We further note that in AO 1992-15, an Opinion issued before the election in question, the Commission explicitly stated that "the point from which to measure the time period for redesignation or refund is 60 days from the date of the" primary defeat. AO 1992-15 at page 3 (emphasis added).<sup>6</sup>

6. The Moody campaign claims to rely on AO 1986-17 in making its "reasonable time" argument. That opinion, however, predates the 60 day corrective action requirement promulgated in 1987. On the other hand, in AO 1992-15 the Commission made clear that general election contributions must be refunded within 60 days of a primary defeat. Indeed, despite Respondents' attempts to

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 3 8

The Moody campaign further asserted that it should not be "penalized" because its interpretation of the refund requirement was a "reasonable" alternative, relying on Satellite Broadcasting Co. Inc. v. FCC, 824 F.2d 1 (D.C. Cir. 1987). Even if that case were to have some application here, it is easily distinguishable. The corporation in Satellite Broadcasting sent its license application to the wrong location, but it had been timely submitted to an office identified in FCC regulations. In contrast, the Moody campaign has yet to refund most of these excessive contributions. As the Moody campaign has not even complied with the old "reasonable time" standard, its reliance on the holding in Satellite Broadcasting is misplaced.

The Moody campaign also argued that it is unclear whether refunds are required at all in this instance because Mr. Moody may have been a "candidate" for the general election. In making this argument, the respondents looked to the definition of "candidate" set forth in the Act. See 2 U.S.C. § 431(2)(A). The Act "defines a 'candidate' as an individual who has received contributions or made expenditures aggregating in excess of $5,000." Id. In a supplement to its response in this matter, respondents promoted Advisory Opinion 1994-5 in support of their contention that the definition of "candidate" is not dependent on the individual's ballot eligibility. AO 1994-5, issued two years after the Moody campaign's election involvement, emphasizes only that the $5,000

threshold of financial activity to influence an election triggers an individual's filing requirement under the Act. That Opinion does not address the issue here: contribution limitations.<sup>7</sup> In any event, AO 1994-5 also reiterates that once an individual reaches the $5,000 threshold of campaign activity, that individual must file with the Commission as a candidate "and must otherwise comply with all provisions of the Act and Commission regulations" (emphasis added). Again, the regulations at issue here require, and the Commission's Opinions uphold, that a candidate who does not participate in the general election must refund, redesignate, or reattribute contributions received for that election.

11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e). AO 1992-15. Furthermore, after his primary defeat Mr. Moody was no longer "seeking" election. Thus, at that point, whether or not he had previously met the $5,000 threshold was irrelevant, and refunds were required. See 2 U.S.C. § 431(2); See also AO 1994-30.

Arguing further that refunds are not required, the Moody campaign also relied on AO 1986-12, but to no avail. In that Opinion, the Commission ruled that a member of Congress who determined not to seek re-election shortly before the New York State primary filing deadline could transfer to a "testing the waters" committee undesignated contributions received prior to that deadline. See AO 1986-12. However, with respect to contributions like those at issue here which were donor-designated

7. The 1979 legislative history explicitly states that the intent of Congress in establishing the $5,000 filing threshold was to reduce the number of candidates required to register and report under the Act.

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 9 9 for the general election, the Commission ruled that such funds must be returned. See AO 1986-12. Indeed, that Opinion and others, along with the regulations, make it clear that corrective action must be taken regarding general election contributions if a candidate does not participate in the general election. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e); 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C).

Respondents also argued that Section 441a(a), as applied by the Commission through its Advisory Opinions and Regulations, violates their Fifth Amendment right to equal protection of law and their First Amendment right to free speech. Specifically, respondents claimed that by restricting general election spending prior to the primary election, the Commission "substantially impairs candidates from late primary states such as Wisconsin." At issue is the acceptance of excessive contributions that respondents did not refund. The issue is not, as respondents suggested, the making of general election expenditures before the primary. In any event, there is no evidence that the Moody campaign was treated any differently from any other "similarly situated" committee, and they have neither alleged nor shown any intent by the FEC to discriminate. City of Cleburne, Tex. v. Cleburne Living Center, 473 U.S. 432 (1985).

Respondents further contended that the Commission's requirement that refunds be made within 60 days violates their First Amendment right of free speech. According to respondents, given the 60 day refund requirement, "candidates . . . are effectively prohibited from spending general election funds during the primary." And in view of the "an unrealistically drawn time period" to refund, "[a] candidate is subject to too great a risk if he faces a substantial chance of losing the primary." Yet there is no evidence that the refund requirement even had any effect on the spending at issue in this matter. Indeed, the respondents appear to have spent upwards of $100,000 in general election contributions prior to the primary. In any event, the Act's contribution limitations were upheld as facially valid to a First Amendment challenge in Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 31 (1974). Finally, when rejecting an analogous argument about how the limits apply to minor parties in Buckley, the Court stated that the Act "applies the same limitations on contributions to all candidates," and "[a]bsent evidence of invidious discrimination against [primary election losers] a court should generally be hesitant to invalidate legislation which on its face imposes evenhanded restrictions." Id.<sup>8</sup>

IV. SUMMARY

In summary, Respondents do not dispute that they accepted excessive contributions totaling $168,741 for 1992 primary and general elections which they have still failed to refund. In light of the foregoing, this Office is prepared to recommend that

Dear Ms. Hagan:

In response to Mr. Noble's letter dated April 24, 1995, accompanying the General Counsel's brief in this Matter, we request a 20 day extension of time to prepare our brief in response to the General Counsel's recommendation of probable cause. Under this schedule, our brief would be due on June 1, 1995.

Pursuant to our telephone conversation, it is my understanding that you will be sending us a list of the primary election contributions referred to footnote 4. In addition, it is also my understanding that the General Counsel's intention in footnote 5 of its brief is to clarify that the issue of whether or not the Moody Committee could make general election expenditures in the primary or whether these expenditures were appropriate under the Act is no longer an issue in this Matter. Instead, as stated in the footnote, the sole remaining issue here is whether the "entire amount of [general election funds raised] was required to be refunded timely after the primary defeat". If this is not the case, and the issue of the appropriate use of general election funds remains an issue in this case, please communicate this in writing so that we can be certain to address all issues raised in this matter.

RE: MUR 4156

Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Ms. Schadler:

This is in response to your letter dated May 2, 1995, received the same day, requesting an extension of 20 days to respond to the General Counsel's Brief. After considering the circumstances presented in your letter, the Office of the General Counsel has granted the requested extension. Accordingly, your response is due by the close of business on June 1, 1995.

The issue you raise concerning general election expenditures in the primary period was originally raised when your clients, responding to inquiries by the Reports Analysis Division, cited Advisory Opinion 1986-17 which allows such expenditures in limited instances. The Commission's Factual and Legal Analysis ("F&L") discussed this issue in view of your clients' previous arguments, noting that the Moody Committee's expenditures appeared to go beyond the guidelines in the Opinion. The F&L emphasized that regardless how the expenditures are viewed, the entire amount was required to be refunded timely after the primary defeat. In view of your focus on expenditures in response to the F&L, the General Counsel's Brief at footnote 5 clarifies that whether or not the expenditures were permissible, the key issue is the failure to refund excessive contributions. Finally, the documents you requested were transmitted by facsimile on Tuesday, May 2, 1995.

If you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3400.

REPLY TO GENERAL COUNSEL'S BRIEF

Introduction

Respondents have never disputed that in accordance with the allowance of law, they accepted general election contributions before the primary and applied them to legitimate general election purposes. Nor for that matter, have Respondents ever denied an obligation to refund that money. To this day, Respondents remain prepared to negotiate a reasonable agreement with the Commission over a time period for raising the necessary money to refund these contributions.

OGC insists, however, that Respondents have violated the law and should now pay a penalty for failing to make the refund within sixty days.* OGC insists that the "plain language" of the Act mandates the refund within sixty days; comports with the intention of Congress; fulfills all constitutional conditions; and is entitled to "deference" within the meaning of such cases as FEC v. Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, 454 U.S. 27 (1981). Respondents do not expect to win this argument with OGC on the merits. OGC's * OGC appears to acknowledge that this case does not revolve around any misapplication of the general election contributions, that is, applications for other than general election purposes. The "key" issue, it now clearly states, is the failure of Respondents to refund contributions within 60 days. See Letter from Frances B. Hagen to B. Holly Schadler dated May 4, 1995.

position appears to have hardened into something resembling finality. Respondents will briefly review for the Commission the reasons why this position is misguided and cannot support a finding of liability against Respondents. Any settlement should reflect that, however strongly OGC argues to the contrary, the 60-day "rule" it articulates is novel, is not apparent from a reasonable reading of the regulations and poses insurmountable problems for candidates like Mr. Moody who conducted campaigns in a state with a late primary election.

Respondents also note that the Commission need not decide the legal issue for all time in this MUR, one way or the other. At a minimum, the Commission should acknowledge the full reasonableness of Respondents' position and authorize post-probable cause conciliation that takes fair account of that position. Respondents cannot enter into post-probable cause conciliation on any other basis.

Sixty Day Requirement

OGC insists that as of 1987, a 60-day refund requirement applied to any general election contributions held or spent by a candidate competing unsuccessfully in a primary period for his or her party's general election nomination. In fact, the Commission has clearly distinguished between contributions subject to reattribution or redesignation generally, and those contributions received before a primary for general purposes. The only relevant regulation reads in full as follows:

If the candidate is not a candidate in the general election, all contributions made for the general election shall be either returned or refunded to the contributors or redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. 110.1(b)(5), or reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate (emphasis added).

11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e).

Respondents do not dispute the application of the 60-day refund requirement to contributions subject to redesignation or reattribution. The contributions at issue in this matter are not subject to reattribution or redesignation and so, logically, are not subject to the 60-day refund requirement. The Commission has insisted and Respondents acknowledge that they have an obligation to refund general election contributions received before the primary, but the time frame has never been established by law -- not by statute nor by regulation.

In this brief, OGC effectively takes two positions. First, it claims that if there is no 60-day requirement and Respondents have a "reasonable time" to make refunds, Respondents have nonetheless offended the "reasonable time" requirement. OGC states: "... the Committee has failed to refund more than $100,000 in contributions given for the 1992 general election." Respondents acknowledge that fundraising for this purpose following an unsuccessful campaign is not easy. This acknowledgment is not tantamount to a suggestion that they will not make the effort or eventually make refunds. They will do so and are prepared to enter into a conciliation agreement based on a campaign plan reasonably designed to accomplish that purpose. Nothing in potential settlement negotiations with the Commission is advanced by the vague suggestion that a reasonable time standard has been violated when there is no suggestion of what might be taken to be a "reasonable" time. As the Commission might acknowledge, "reasonableness" is judged with respect to all of the surrounding circumstances: other competitive races in the state, the general climate for political fundraising, the availability to the Committee of support from volunteers and others to assist with that fundraising. Respondents are perfectly prepared to address all of these conditions for determining a "reasonable" time for refunds and to execute upon that determination.

Second, OGC claims that the Commission has issued since 1987 an Advisory Opinion which it terms "precisely on point." That Advisory Opinion is 1992-15 and far from supporting OGC's position it exposes the confusion which, in Respondents' judgment, has affected OGC's treatment of the case. In that Opinion, the committee of a candidate who has lost a primary election determined that certain contributions raised before the primary for the general election would qualify for redesignation or reattribution. The Opinion issued by the Commission notes that "the Committee did not anticipate the necessity for redesignation until after the primary election," and that it now sought "an exception to the rule that contributions not redesignated must be refunded within 60-days of receipt by the treasurer." The Commission then proceeds with an analysis of the redesignation regulations. It states "... the redesignation regulations referred to the requirement that a contribution redesignation be made within 60 days." The Commission held that "for losing primary candidates," "it was prepared to find that redesignation within 60 days of the primary election date would be permissible."

In short, the Opinion addresses once again contributions subject to redesignation or reattribution. CCH titles the Advisory Opinion "Redesignation of Pre-Primary Contributions." Respondents do not dispute in any way that contributions for which they would claim redesignation or reattribution must be so processed, or refunded within 60 days. The contributions before the Commission in that matter are not contributions for which Respondents would make this claim: they have never sought and do not now seek by extended time or otherwise redesignation or reattribution of these contributions.

The only question before the Commission is whether contributions received before the primary, spent for general election purposes must be refunded within 60 days. This 60-day requirement does not by any reasonable reading appear in Advisory Opinions, much less in the provisions of the regulations adopted at any time -- before 1987 or after.

The Reasonableness of Respondents' Interpretation

The Commission also dismisses the objections raised by Respondents to the reading the Commission would now give the regulations after the fact. The Commission, in particular, disavows the relevance of Satellite Broadcasting Company, Inc. v. FCC, 824 F. 2d 1, (D.C. Cir. 1987) as follows:

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 7 9

The corporation in Satellite Broadcasting sent its license application to the wrong location, but it had been timely submitted to an office identified in FCC regulations. In contrast, the Moody campaign has yet to refund most of these excessive contributions."

OGC misapprehends entirely the reasons why the Respondents cited Satellite Broadcasting. Its purpose was not to compare the actions of the company in that case with those in the Moody campaign: the first is a satellite operation operating under one statute and the second, a political committee operating under another. There is nothing to compare in the actions of the Satellite Broadcasting and the Moody campaign. Satellite Broadcasting was cited for the principal of administrative law that a party's due process rights are violated when its interpretation of the rules has been reasonable -- however reasonable the agency's competing interpretation. Once again, the Court there stated as follows:

To be sure we normally defer to an agency's reasonable interpretation of its own rules. Udall v. Tallman, 380 U.S. 1, 16-17, 85 S.Ct. 792, 801-02, 13 L.Ed.2d 616 (1965). And we assume, arguendo, that the FCC's interpretation here is a reasonable one. But . . . if the Commission had interpreted its rules as did petitioner we similarly would have been obliged to defer to that interpretation because it, at minimum, is also reasonable. There is the rub. The Commission through its regulatory power cannot, in effect, punish a member of the regulated class for reasonably interpreting Commission rules. Otherwise the practice of administrative law would come to resemble "Russian Roulette." The agency's interpretation is entitled to deference, but if it wishes to use that interpretation to cut off a party's right, it must give full notice of its interpretation. (emphasis added.)

842 F.2d at 3.

Constitutional Implications

Finally, OGC dismisses the constitutional argument, finding no problem with the impact of the newly contrived rule on candidates with late primaries. OGC 's brief states: "There is no evidence that the refund requirement even had any effect on the spending at issue in this matter." Here, OGC apparently has also misinterpreted Respondents' position. The question is not one of fact -- whether the refund requirement affected, in fact, the spending in this matter -- but rather one of the reasonableness of the Commission's rule in light of the applicable constitutional requirements.

It is preposterous to suggest that campaigns with substantial obligations to refund monies can do so within 60 days. This is the essential point of difference between contributions subject to redesignation and those contributions not so subject which have been spent before the primary for general election purposes. In the first case, the contribution is still in-hand: the redesignation or reattribution can be requested and received, in which case the money is spent; or, without the necessary reattribution or redesignation, the contribution still held by the committee can be easily enough refunded. In this case, the contributions have been spent: to be sure for legitimate and legal purpose related to the general elections, but they have been spent. They are no longer available to the Committee which must now seek to replace them with fresh fundraising.

Under OGC's 60-day rule, Mr. Moody would be expected to have lost the primary and then over the 60-day period of a Senatorial and Presidential election campaign in the State of Wisconsin raise the money required to have accomplished the refunds. OGC knows well that the likelihood of accomplishing these refunds is near zero. If, in fact, it is near zero, that is, the requirement is one which by definition cannot be fulfilled, then the rule itself is suspect in failing to meet fundamental constitutional requirements.

In effect, the 60-day refund requirement operates as a covert barrier to expenditure of general election contributions before the primary. A candidate can do so and then face substantial penalties from the government for failing to do what the government knows it likely cannot -- raise the money necessary for the refund within 60 days. Or, alternatively, the candidate can forsake the pre-general spending, notwithstanding that this spending may be absolutely vital to the promotion of the candidate's message to the general electorate. Putting the candidate in this impossible position cannot satisfy constitutional requirements.

The Supreme Court in Buckley has stated and other courts have followed the fundamental rule that limitations on speech must be sustained by the demonstration of a compelling state interest which, moreover, burdens free speech rights by means no broader than absolutely necessary to accomplish the legitimate state goal. A 60-day refund requirement in the context of late primary campaigns (and perhaps in the context of others) simply cannot satisfy that test.

Respectfully Submitted,

MUR 4156

SENSITIVE

I. BACKGROUND

On December 6, 1994, the Commission found reason to believe that Friends of Jim Moody ("Moody campaign") and Robert H. Frieibert, as treasurer ("Respondents"), violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) by accepting excessive contributions totaling $168,740. These contributions include those in connection with a 1992 primary election ($67,071) which the candidate lost, and in connection with the 1992 general election ($101,669) in which he did not participate. To date, over $160,000 of these contributions have still not been refunded.

On April 24, 1995, this Office provided Respondents with a General Counsel's Brief, which is incorporated herein by reference. See General Counsel's Brief dated April 24, 1995. Attached for the Commission's review is Respondents' Reply Brief. See Attachment 1. For the reasons stated in our Brief and set forth below, this Office recommends that the Commission find probable cause to believe that Respondents violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). In addition, this Office also recommends that the Commission approve the attached conciliation agreement. Attachment 2.

II. DISCUSSION OF REPLY BRIEF

9 6 0 4 3 7 0 2 8 3
In its Reply Brief, the Moody campaign has omitted many of the arguments submitted in its earlier response. Moreover, the Moody campaign no longer requests outright dismissal of this matter, and even indicates that it is willing to conciliate and pay an "appropriate civil penalty," at least for the excessive primary contributions it "inadvertently accepted." Attachment 1 at 7. Indeed, Respondents do not even recommend a finding of no probable cause with respect to their receipt of any of the contributions. Yet with respect to the contributions for the general election, although the Moody campaign does not deny its "obligation" to refund them, it contends that it cannot "accept liability for a rule it did not violate." Attachment 1 at 7. Thus, Respondents assert that they are willing to negotiate a time-frame for refunding these contributions, but will not accept liability for their acceptance.

In support of its position, the Moody campaign offers two arguments. First, it contends that the time frame for making refunds of excessive contributions in situations such as this one has "never been established by law--not by statute nor by regulation." Attachment 1 at 3. Thus, although the Moody campaign acknowledges that there is a legal obligation to refund these contributions, it contends that liability cannot be imposed for failing to do so within 60 days. In fact, it appears that under Respondents' theory liability cannot be imposed no matter how much time passes. Secondly, Respondents suggest that the "reasonable time" standard for refunding excessive contributions applies in this matter and they suggest that they can meet the standard even though they have still yet to make the refunds. nearly three years after the candidate lost the primary election.<sup>1</sup>

Respondents' arguments result from a crabbed reading of 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) and ignore that the Commission has repeatedly stated that if a candidate does not participate in an election, he or she must take corrective action regarding contributions received for such election on a timely basis. See Advisory Opinions ("AO"s) 1992-15, 1986-17, 1982-49. Although Section 102.9(e) does not set forth the time frame in which such refunds must be made, the accompanying Explanation and Justification explicitly states that 102.9(e) was revised to bring it "into conformity with" 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(3) and 110.2(b)(3). 52 Federal Register 768 (January 9, 1987). Those regulations, as well as the "catch all" regulation at Section 103.3(b)(3), make clear that excessive contributions must be refunded within 60 days. Furthermore, in AO 1992-15 the Commission explicitly ruled that the "point from which to measure the time period for redesignation or refund is 60 days from the date of the primary defeat". AO 1992-15 at page 3 (emphasis added). Thus, despite Respondents' attempt to factually distinguish this matter from AO

1. Under the now defunct standard, a recipient of an excessive contribution had a "reasonable time" to take corrective action. See A.O. 1986-17. The reasonable time standard was replaced with the 60 day rule on April 8, 1987.

1992-15, that Opinion is squarely on point.<sup>2</sup>

As stated in the General Counsel's Brief, even before the Commission adopted a 60 day refund requirement, excessive contributions had to be refunded within a reasonable time. The Moody campaign's suggestion that it can still meet the reasonable time standard if they refund these 1992 contributions sometime in the future is without merit. As previously stated, it has been almost three years since Mr. Moody's primary election defeat. Although this Office is aware that committees of losing candidates may encounter fundraising difficulties, at this late date the Moody campaign can not come close to meeting the reasonable time standard. Indeed, the Commission has previously found that

2. In their Reply Brief, Respondents argue that refunds of contributions that may be either redesignated, reattributed or refunded are different than those that might only be refunded. Attachment 1 at 3-4, 6. The basis for this conclusion is unclear. However, it appears to be based upon the assumption, set forth later in the Reply Brief, that in situations in which contributions might be redesignated or reattributed, the funds have not yet been spent. Id. at 6. Yet there is nothing to suggest that redesignations and/or reattributions cannot be obtained subsequent to when a contribution is spent, as long as they are obtained within 60 days. Thus, Respondents' purported distinction is without any basis. Moreover, any such distinction would create anomalous results: if contributions could be redesignated, reattributed or refunded such action would be required within 60 days, but if such contributions could not be redesignated or reattributed, then refunds would not be required for years.

The Moody campaign also indicates that the contributions at issue are not those "which Respondents would make" a claim of redesignation or reattribution. Attachment 1 at 4. Curiously, however, in their prior response, they stated that they "did not attempt to redesignate or reattribute the contributions because [the Moody campaign] was not aware that a second opportunity was available under 1992-15 which was issued only a few months before the Wisconsin primary." See Moody campaign's response of February 3, 1995.

committees which have taken corrective action much more expeditiously than the Moody campaign had failed to meet that standard. Cf. MUR 2546 (Committee which refunded excessive contributions on an average of 299 days after receipt did not meet the reasonable time standard; Cf. MUR 2154 (Commission found that committee which took more than 90 days to refund excessive contributions had not met the reasonable time standard; Cf. AO 1985-25 (Commission, citing MUR 1360, determined that "reasonable time" under the facts presented in that Opinion was within 30 days of receipt).

In sum, Respondents' interpretation of the reasonable time standard for refunds would act to shield from Section 441a(f) liability candidates who spend contributions for an election in which they do not participate.

Finally, for the reasons stated in the General Counsel's Brief, the Moody campaign's claim that the Commission's 60 day refund requirement violates its constitutional rights is unpersuasive.<sup>3</sup> Given all

3. The Reply Brief reveals that Respondents apparently misconstrue the distinction made in the General Counsel's Brief between their actions and those of the corporation in Satellite Broadcasting Inc. v. FCC, 824 F.2d 1 (D.C. Cir. 1987). We agree that Satellite Broadcasting stands for the proposition that an agency cannot punish a regulated class for "reasonably interpreting" and following its rules. However, it was not reasonable for the Moody campaign to interpret the Commission's refund requirement rules so as to impose no time limitations at all, which is essentially one of its arguments here. In addition, given that almost three years have passed since the primary election, the Moody campaign's claim that it can now meet the foregoing, this Office recommends that the Commission find probable cause to believe that Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).

IV RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Find probable cause to believe that Friends of Jim Moody, and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).

2. Approve the attached conciliation agreement with Friends of Jim Moody, and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer.

"reasonable time" requirement is also meritless. In short, the holding in Satellite Broadcasting does not aid the Moody campaign with respect to these contributions because it has not reasonably interpreted the Commission's rules regarding refunds.

RE: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody and
Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Mr. Bauer and Ms. Schadler:

On July 25, 1995, the Federal Election Commission found that there is probable cause to believe that Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f), a provision of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended, for accepting excessive contributions in connection with Wisconsin's 1992 primary and general elections for the U.S. Senate.

The Commission has a duty to attempt to correct such violations for a period of 30 to 90 days by informal methods of conference, conciliation, and persuasion, and by entering into a conciliation agreement with a respondent. If we are unable to reach an agreement during that period, the Commission may institute a civil suit in United States District Court and seek payment of a civil penalty.

Enclosed is a conciliation agreement that the Commission has approved in settlement of this matter. If you agree with the provisions of the enclosed agreement, please sign and return it, along with the civil penalty, to the Commission within ten days. I will then recommend that the Commission accept the agreement. Please make your check for the civil penalty payable to the Federal Election Commission.

RE: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody
and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Mr. Bauer and Ms. Schadler:

On December 7, 1995, the Federal Election Commission accepted the signed agreement you submitted on behalf of your clients in settlement of a violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f), a provision of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended ("the Act"). Accordingly, the file has been closed in this matter.

The confidentiality provisions at 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(12) no longer apply and this matter is now public. In addition, although the complete file must be placed on the public record within 30 days, this could occur at any time following certification of the Commission's vote. If you wish to submit any factual or legal materials to appear on the public record, please do so as soon as possible. While the file may be placed on the public record before receiving your additional materials, any permissible submissions will be added to the public record upon receipt.

Information derived in connection with any conciliation attempt will not become public without the written consent of the respondent and the Commission. See 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(4)(B). The enclosed conciliation agreement, however, will become a part of the public record.

Enclosed you will find a copy of the fully executed conciliation agreement for your files. Please note that the next installment of the civil penalty is due on December 15, 1995. If you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3400.

Sincerely,

Xavier K. McDonnell
Attorney

Enclosure
Conciliation Agreement

Celebrating the Commission's 20th Anniversary

YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW
DEDICATED TO KEEPING THE PUBLIC INFORMED

Nov 21 11 15 AM '95

BEFORE THE FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION

In the Matter of )
 ) MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody )
Robert H. Friebert, Treasurer )

CONCILIATION AGREEMENT

This matter was initiated by the Federal Election Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to information ascertained in the normal course of carrying out its supervisory responsibilities. The Commission found probable cause to believe that Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer, ("Respondents"), violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).

NOW, THEREFORE, the Commission and the Respondents, having duly entered into conciliation pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 437(g)(a)(4)(i) do hereby agree as follows:

I. The Commission has jurisdiction over the Respondents and the subject matter of this proceeding, and this agreement has been entered pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(4)(A)(i).

II. Respondents have had a reasonable opportunity to demonstrate that no action should be taken in this matter.

III. Respondents enter voluntarily into this agreement with the Commission.

IV. The pertinent facts in this matter are as follows:

1. Friends of Jim Moody is a political committee within the meaning of 2 U.S.C. § 431(4).

2. The Respondent committee served as principal campaign committee for candidate Jim Moody during the 1992 U.S. Senate campaign in Wisconsin.

3. Robert H. Friebert is treasurer of the respondent committee.

4. The Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended, prohibits a candidate or committee from knowingly accepting any contribution in violation of the provisions of Section 441a. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f). The contribution limit for individuals and political committees without multi-candidate status is $1,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A). The contribution limit for political action committees qualified as multi-candidate committees is $5,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(2)(A). The term "contribution" includes any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person for the purpose of influencing any election for federal office.

5. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) provides that if a candidate is not a candidate in the general election, all contributions made for the general election shall be either returned or refunded to the contributors or redesignated in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(5), or reattributed in accordance with 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(k)(3), as appropriate. See also Advisory Opinions ("AO") 1992-15, 1986-17, 1982-49. All such refunds, etc., must be made within sixty days. 11 C.F.R. §§ 102.9(e), 110.1(b)(3)(i)(C), 103.3(b).

6. 11 C.F.R. § 102.9(e) also provides that if a candidate receives contributions prior to the date of the primary election, which contributions are designated in writing by the contributor for use in connection with the general election, such candidate or such committee(s) shall use an acceptable accounting method to distinguish between contributions received for the primary election and contributions received for the general election.

7. Candidate Jim Moody lost his Senate bid in the primary held on September 8, 1992, and thus Respondents were required to refund, redesignate, or reattribute all the general election receipts within 60 days of his defeat. AO 1992-15; 11 C.F.R. §§ 110.1(b)(5) and 110.1(k)(3).

8. During the 1992 election cycle, Respondents accepted primary and general election contributions totaling $168,741 in excess of the limitations at 2 U.S.C. §§ 441a(a)(1)(A) and 441a(a)(2)(A). None of the $168,741 in excessive contributions that was accepted for the primary and general elections was refunded, redesignated or reattributed within 60 days.

V. Respondents accepted $168,741 in excessive contributions in violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f).

VI. Respondents will pay a civil penalty to the Federal Election Commission in the amount of Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000), pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(5)(A), such penalty to be paid as follows:

1. One initial payment of $20,000 due upon submission of the signed agreement;
2. Thereafter, from December 15, 1995 through April 15, 1996, five consecutive monthly payments of $1,000 each due on the 15th day of each month, and;
3. One final payment of $15,000 due on May 15, 1996.
4. In the event that any installment payment is not received by the Commission by the fifth day after it becomes due, the Commission may, at its discretion, accelerate the remaining payments and cause the entire amount to become due upon ten days written notice to the Respondents. Failure by the Commission to accelerate the payments with regard to any overdue installment shall not be construed as a waiver of its right to do so with regard to future overdue installments.

VII. The Commission, on request of anyone filing a complaint under 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(1) concerning the matters at issue herein or on its own motion, may review compliance with this agreement. If the Commission believes that this agreement or any requirement thereof has been violated, it may institute a civil action for relief in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

VIII. This agreement shall become effective as of the date that all parties hereto have executed same and the Commission has approved the entire agreement.

IX. This Conciliation Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties on the matters raised herein, and no other statement, promise, or agreement, either written or oral, made by either party or by agents of either party, that is not contained in this written agreement shall be enforceable.

Re: Friends of Jim Moody

Dear Mr. McDonnell:

Enclosed is a check for $8,000 as a partial payment of the final installment of the remaining $15,000 of the civil penalty for Friends of Jim Moody.

Fundraising has been proceeding more slowly than the Committee expected, complicated further by Mr. Moody's absence from the country while he is living in Rome, Italy. Despite a concerted effort to raise the necessary funds within the time period, the Committee has not raised the full amount. The Committee has been actively fundraising through numerous mailings and personal solicitations. We would be glad to send a summary of the Committee's efforts to date. The Committee is confident that the remaining $7,000 can be raised in the next several months.

Pursuant to our conversation, I am requesting that the Conciliation Agreement be modified to reflect an extended period of time for payment of the civil penalty. Under the terms of such a change, the Committee would have an additional period of time of three months to raise the additional funds. In the interim, the Committee will send funds as they are received in payment of the penalty. We request that you review this proposal and contact me regarding submitting it to the Commission for approval. Please call me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

B. Holly Schadler

RE: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody
and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer

Dear Ms. Schadler:

This is in response to your letter dated May 15, 1996, requesting additional time for your clients to make the final payment on the civil penalty in MUR 4156. As noted in your letter, pursuant to the terms of the conciliation agreement, a final payment in the amount of $15,000 was due on May 15, 1996. Instead, on that date your clients tendered only $8,000, asserting that their fundraising efforts have moved more slowly than expected. In light of the circumstances, this Office will agree to extend the payments as follows: $1,000 payable on June 15, 1996; $1,000 payable on July 15, 1996; and $5,000 payable on August 15, 1996.

If your clients agree with the change proposed above, please notify us immediately in writing. In addition, please note that this proposed change in the payment schedule will not affect the Commission's right to accelerate the payments or institute a civil action as provided for in the conciliation agreement in the event that the remaining installments are not received on the dates proposed above. If you have any questions, please contact me at (202) 219-3400.

Sincerely,

Xavier K. McDonnell
Attorney

TO: The Commission

FROM: Lawrence M. Noble
General Counsel

BY: Lois G. Lerner LL
Associate General Counsel

SUBJECT: MUR 4156
Friends of Jim Moody
and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer
payment of civil penalty

On November 7, 1995, the Commission accepted a conciliation agreement with Friends of Jim Moody and Robert H. Friebert, as treasurer ("Respondents") with respect to their acceptance of $168,741 in excessive contributions. The agreement contained an admission that Respondents violated 2 U.S.C. § 441a(f) and provided for a civil penalty of $40,000, payable in installments.

Beginning on December 15, 1995, payments were received on a monthly basis in accordance with the terms of the agreement. By April 15, 1996, $25,000 was received. The final installment, in the amount of $15,000, was due on May 15, 1996. On the day that the final installment was due, this Office received an $8,000 payment along with a request that Respondents be provided with three additional months to pay the $7,000 still outstanding. Respondents explained that their fundraising efforts have moved more slowly than expected but asserted that they are "confident" that they can raise the remaining $7,000 by August of 1996. Attachment 1. In light of the circumstances, this Office agreed to extend the payments as follows: $1,000 payable on June 15, 1996; $1,000 payable on July 15, 1996; and $5,000 payable on August 15, 1996. Attachment 2. Respondents have agreed to make the remaining payments in accordance with the above-terms. Attachment 3. This Office will continue to monitor the civil penalty payments, and if the Respondents do not adhere to the agreed changes, we shall notify the Commission and recommend appropriate action.

Re: Friends of Jim Moody

Dear Mr. McDonnell:

Enclosed is a check for $8,000 as a partial payment of the final installment of the remaining $15,000 of the civil penalty for Friends of Jim Moody.

Fundraising has been proceeding more slowly than the Committee expected, complicated further by Mr. Moody's absence from the country while he is living in Rome, Italy. Despite a concerted effort to raise the necessary funds within the time period, the Committee has not raised the full amount. The Committee has been actively fundraising through numerous mailings and personal solicitations. We would be glad to send a summary of the Committee's efforts to date. The Committee is confident that the remaining $7,000 can be raised in the next several months.

Pursuant to our conversation, I am requesting that the Conciliation Agreement be modified to reflect an extended period of time for payment of the civil penalty. Under the terms of such a change, the Committee would have an additional period of time of three months to raise the additional funds. In the interim, the Committee will send funds as they are received in payment of the penalty. We request that you review this proposal and contact me regarding submitting it to the Commission for approval. Please call me at your convenience.

Sincerely,
