Re: MUR 8016

In response to the complaint filed against Jarome Bell for Congress, the Committee responds as follows.

Dennis Free claimed the Campaign violated 11 CFR 110.11 by sending mailers with no disclaimers.

The Committee is sending the same answer that was sent for MUR 8018 as these two individuals seem to have very coincidentally identical complaints against Jarome Bell for Congress

The Committee did not make any expenditures for these mailers and is unaware who did. I (Elizabeth Curtis, Treasurer) only became aware of the existence of such mailers when this complaint was sent.

The Committee will be filing a disavowal notice to place on public record, however, will not be able to identify which group the Committee is disavowing because of the absence of such disclaimers.

The Committee's filed Form 3s will show that there were no expenditures on these postcard mailers. They can be sent upon request.

The Committee does not know how to identify the responsible party as the pictured mailers do not give very much information.

The Committee is also happy to provide bank statements further showing no expenditures on postcard mailers. As a matter of fact, the complaint references mail the complainant received "last week." His complaint was dated June 6. I am attaching bank statements for both of the Committee filed depositories, for your review of expenditures. Please note that the Chain Bridge account was the campaign's operational account while the First Virginia Community Bank account was for a fundraising mail program.

The Committee cannot even afford counsel to handle this matter, as it had hardly any money to spend and barely covered operational costs.

The results of the primary election make that pretty clear.

If any more information is requested, please let me know, however, I request that this complaint be dismissed based on a review of the campaign's filed FEC reports and the Disavowal notice to be filed.

Thank you,

Elizabeth Curtis
Treasurer, Jarome Bell for Congress
