Re: Longevity International Enterprises Corp.
MUR 4594

Dear Ms. Bell:

Thank you for your telephone conversation and letter of November 19, 1997, in which you outline the parameters relating to what the Commission is now willing to accept.

We also received the letter as it relates to Maybelle Pang.

Please be advised that we are requesting an extension to respond to the issues in your letter of November 19, 1997, and we are requesting another two weeks to respond and also thirty days from November 28 should Longevity produces and responds.

The reason for the request for extension is obviously the response to us was given with a short deadline and in checking with our client, it appears that given the fact that next week is Thanksgiving, the personnel in charge have taken off for the holidays. Also, the extension is necessary because even if the period is limited to 1992 through 1996, our understanding is that it will still take time to gather and research such documents and if such documents exist, the time needed to make copies.

Also, in reference to Maybelle Pang, please be advised if the Commission is willing to discuss the limitation and the scope of the substance of the subpoena. Specifically, if the Commission is willing to limit the scope to the period of 1992 through 1996 and if so, we will discuss this with Ms. Pang.

If there are any questions, please call.

Very truly yours,
